MAN SWEARS HE, DISGUISED AS WOMAN, SLEW STEINHEIL

INTERRUPTS TRIAL OF WIDOW, SAYING SHE IS INNOCENT

Dramatic Appearance in Court Follows Reading of Letter Which Contained His "Confession."

JUDGE WARNS JURY HOAX MAY HAVE BEEN PLANNED

Witness Is Placed Under Arrest, but Trial of Prisoner Will Go On---She Defies Judge in Long Examination and Protests Innocence.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—The trial of Mme. Steinheil was dramatically interrupted today by a man who swore that he had participated in the murder of Mme. Steinheil's husband and her stepmother, of which she is accused, and that the prisoner had no part in the crime.

The new witness, who was immediately placed under arrest, said he was disguised as a woman at the time of the crime. He said his only reason for confessing was to clear his conscience.

The new witness was dramatically introduced. M. Aubin, Mme. Steinheil's attorney, first read a letter, signed Jean Le Fevre, in which the writer said he had taken part in the murder.

The writer, the attorney said, had stated that he had been overcome by remorse. Immediately after reading the letter the attorney suddenly and dramatically introduced the writer, who in the meantime had made his way through the crowd through the courtroom from a place beside M. Aubin.

The newcomer proved to be a man of about 21 years. Amid the greatest excitement he demanded a hearing. Refusing to reply to the preliminary inquiries as to his profession and domicile the young man shouted that he had been an accomplice in the assassination of Adolphe Steinheil and Mme. Japy.

Tells of Double Murder.

As the audience hushed into silence in their eagerness to hear what he had to say, Jean Le Fevre continued:

"I was an accomplice in the assassinations at the home of Mme. Steinheil. Filled with remorse, I wish now to confess my part in the crimes. I was disguised as a woman and wore a wig of red hair. My accomplices wore long cloaks. We committed the murders and then escaped to the forest at Mount Morency, where we burned our disguises."

The voluntary prisoner said that after destroying the immediate evidences of their crime he and his companions escaped from the country, going abroad. One of his friends had since died, he said.

Mme. Steinheil confronted Le Fevre, but said she was unable to recognize him as one of the murderers whom she had described. Judge De Valles ordered that Le Fevre be placed under arerst and an investigation of his statement be made. At the same time the court warned the jury that this dramatic episode might prove to be another attempt to baffle justice.

The confession of the new witness came after Mme. Steinheil had been subjected to a grilling examination for a day and a half. During all this baiting by the presiding judge she held her own, at times showing that she was a most consummate actress.

To one accustomed to the procedure of common law, the baiting of the accused permitted under the Napoleonic Code seemed more barbaric than a bullfight; infinitely more cruel than the tortures of the Spanish Inquisition.

Picture one woman, pale as death, her thin face only a mark of white in a frame of widow's weeds, battling savagely, defiantly, for her life, surrounded by ghost-like lawyers in gowns of black—scores of them, all seeming in their garb more like ghouls than men, scoffing, incredulous, calm, the white woman before them sweeping the whole gamut of emotions, from tears to sneers, from suppliance to defiance, from indignation to repentance, while the white-haired judge, with the red rosette of the Legion of Honor pinned on his black robe, accused her of having lived a long life of crime—picture all that and you have a vision of the first day in the historic trial of Marguerite Steinheil.

COLLINS' SKULL IS EXHIBITED TO JURY IN INQUEST

Trades School Professor Declares Policeman's Beating Was Unjustified.

PROSECUTOR PRESENT

Official Cross-Examines Witnesses Who Saw Youth Clubbed and Kicked.

Companions Declare Patrolman's Attack Was Unprovoked and Wanton.

Prof. John Gilbert Campbell, an instructor in the David Ranken Jr. Trades School, testified at the Coroner's inquest Thursday that the assault of Policeman James O'Hearn upon Ralph Collins, resulting in his death, was entirely unprovoked. Prof. Campbell declared emphatically that Collins was not using bad language, as charged by the policeman, and that he did not attack O'Hearn.

The instructor said he was waiting for a street car and did not know Collins and his companions. He testified that O'Hearn first thrust his knee into Collins' stomach and then knocked him down with his night stick.

Collins' skull was produced in readiness to be exhibited to the jury, showing a fracture across the top.

The exhibit shows a fracture extending across the entire front of the head. There is a second fracture radiating toward the back of the head. The fractures in the skull are such that the blade of an ordinary knife could be inserted in the fissures. Deputy Coroner Carriers says the skull is somewhat thinner than the average.

The top of the skull was removed by the Coroner's physician to show the jury how great an injury was inflicted upon Collins when he was struck on the head with the policeman's club.

Probationary Patrolman John Baker, who assisted in the arrest of Collins, after O'Hearn had inflicted the injury upon him, said he heard Collins say to O'Hearn on the way to the patrol box: "I'll get you if it takes a thousand years."

Patrolman George S. Hart, who was also present, testified that he heard no such remark. Baker said he saw Collins have hold of O'Hearn's leg, apparently trying to trip him, but did not see O'Hearn strike Collins.

Dr. J. W. Nixon, who attended Collins, said he was called between 11 and 12 o'clock last Wednesday night and found Collins in a dazed condition, with a low pulse, indicating a fracture of the skull.

James Lally, desk sergeant, testified O'Hearn admitted striking Collins. "He said he smelled whisky on Collins when he was locked up. The friends of Collins, who were eye witnesses to the assault, and whose statements to the police are fully corroborated by Prof. Campbell, had not been called at noon.

O'Hearn was represented at the inquest by Attorneys Thomas B. Harvey and James C. Shaner. Assistant Circuit Attorney Rosskopf was present to represent the State. He subjected the policemen who testified to a severe cross-examination.

Lieut. Tierney, night commander of the district, was the first witness called. He testified that he talked with Collins after his arrest Wednesday night and that the prisoner was crying.

"He told me," said the Lieutenant, "that O'Hearn hit him on the head without provocation. I examined his head, but could find no external injury. I think he was slightly under the influence of liquor."

Boulevard Collins Was Orderly.

Frank Boyse of 5341 Wells avenue said: "I was standing within five feet of Collins on the southwest corner of Union and Easton avenues. He was leaning against a telegraph pole and nobody was making any noise. Collins was essentially quiet. Policemen O'Hearn and Baker were on the northwest corner.

"We had not been standing there more than five minutes when O'Hearn came over and ordered us to move on. We turned out a little, and Collins said: 'I am waiting for a street car.'

"O'Hearn then kicked Collins in the side and hit him on the head with his club. Collins seemed to collapse against the telephone pole and dropped down by it. He was limp. I heard O'Hearn tell Collins after he hit him that Collins would have to wait some place else for a street car. Baker came over with another policeman, whose name I do not know, and they picked Collins up. He was able to walk some, and with the aid of the policemen, he staggered to the corner on the opposite side of the street to wait for a patrol wagon."

Thomas Mullin of 5125 Minerva avenue said he was standing in a doorway about 6 feet from Collins. The first I knew of any trouble was when O'Hearn struck Collins in the groin. I had not been paying any attention until then.

SCIENTISTS ASK GOVERNMENT AID IN POLE DISPUTE

State Department Is Urged to Request Examination of Cook's Records.

TO ADDRESS DENMARK

Diplomatic Procedure Is Desired by Officials of Geographic Society.

AUTHORITIES NEUTRAL

Washington Attitude Has Been One of Avoidance of the Controversy.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The first attempt to make the United States Government a party to the Cook-Peary controversy was set on foot today. It is regardod as one of the most significant developments which has yet come to light in the dispute between the explorers.

It is demanded by the National Geographic Society that the State Department send to Copenhagen a message which, in substance, will read:

"Let scientific America examine Dr. Cook's proofs."

It is recognized that such action by the State Department would at once raise the controversy to the dignity of an international incident, and necessitate exchanges of diplomatic correspondence between the United States and the Government of Denmark.

A special committee of the Geographic Society is in Washington and its members have been "gum-shoeing" through the halls of the State Department all day. They visited Assistant Secretary Huntington Wilson.

Government Action Asked.

Though every effort was made to surround the purpose of the committee's visit with secrecy any mystery, it was learned that the request for Government action was made, and that the committee is determined to obtain the aid of the Government in clearing up the North Pole controversy.

As an entering wedge, it was asked that an official cablegram be sent to Minister Egan at Copenhagen, asking him to open negotiations with the Copenhagen Geographical Society.

The first request made will be that a special committee appointed by the American Geographical Society shall be permitted to examine Dr. Cook's records.

The State Department has taken the request under advisement until it can be determined whether compliance with the society's request would commit the department to Peary as against Cook.

Government Uncommitted.

It is known that the Government desires to remain neutral, and though the opinion has frequently been expressed in the departments that Cook should submit his proofs to American scientists, no official action with reference to the controversy has ever been taken.

The request for official negotiations through Minister Egan closely follows the action of the American Geographical Society in voting a medal to Commander Peary and pledging itself to start an investigation which will determine whether any other person reached the pole before him.

DR. COIT CALLS MARRIED WOMEN ACTUAL SLAVES

Proves It by Saying They Have No Regular Hours of Work or Stated Wages.

Married women are slaves. This is the keynote to the lecture delivered by Dr. Stanton Coit, of London, before the Women's Trade Union League, at Self-Culture Hall, Wednesday night. He compared the position of slaves with that of married women and showed that slaves have no stated hours of labor and then asked the married women what their hours were. Slaves, said the speaker, have no stated wage. Then he asked married women what their stated wage was.

"Woman is practically at the mercy of her master," he asserted. "If the husband be kind to her that does not make her less a slave. In the South there were masters who literally loved their slaves. This did not make them less slaves.

"When a girl marries she is practically under two contracts—a love contract and a labor contract. The labor contract is the slave contract. There is no reason why woman's work shall not be regulated in some way. Woman does the most important work in society, yet society makes no attempt to compensate her for it.

Women Entitled to Wages.

"If woman does earn what she gets, why should there be no stated amount to which she is entitled? I believe the time will come when woman will know to what part of her husband's salary she may lay claim."

Then, too, in case the husband is out of work, why should the wife and mother suffer? There should be a law which should make it obligatory for the State to step in and care for the mother if the husband is unable to provide properly for her. It is to the interest of the State that healthy children shall come into the world. But how can healthy children come if the mothers are starving or in danger of being thrown out into the street because the husband is out of work and cannot pay the rent?"

Would Let Women Vote.

Dr. Coit caused a laugh by saying that he is a suffragette. He believes that woman is entitled to vote.

Dr. Coit is an avowed Socialist. He had been head worker of the University Settlement in New York before becoming the head of the Ethical Culture movement in England. He is a sociologist of note and has written several books.

Refuses to Tell His Name and Machine Departs Without Number Being Seen.

When about to board a street car in front of 5170 Page boulevard Thursday, Miss Kate Gannon of 5151 Minerva avenue was knocked down by an automobile.

The driver of the touring car lifted the young woman into the machine and took her to the office of Dr. Francis Temm, 5119 Page boulevard, where it was found that her left arm was broken.

The automobilist took her to her home. He refused to give his name and the police have been unable to learn who he was.

JUDGE PRIEST KNOCKS LAWYER DOWN IN COURT

United Railways Attorney Arrested for Striking John A. Gilliam.

Henry S. Priest, former Federal District Judge, a member of the law firm of Boyle & Priest, and chief counsel for the United Railways Co., struck and knocked down Attorney John A. Gilliam, who has been active in many suits against the corporation, in Judge Muench's court, while the court was in session Thursday.

Eyewitnesses say that after Gilliam fell to the floor, Judge Priest again struck him.

Judge Muench, from the bench, rebuked Judge Priest and ordered that he be placed in the custody of the Sheriff until he should apologize.

The case under consideration was a suit of the United Railways Co. to enjoin certain holders of judgments against the St. Louis Transit Co. from suing separately.

Contradicted By Gilliam.

Gilliam appeared as attorney for J. Brooks Johnson, one of the defendants, who holds many claims against the St. Louis Transit Co.

Judge Priest, arguing in favor of the injunction, made the statement that at a former hearing before Judge Reynolds, Attorney Gilliam had testified that Johnson had bought three judgments against the Transit company for one-third their face value, and that he had obtained these judgments by advertising for them.

At this point in Judge Priest's argument, Gilliam arose from his seat at the counsel table and said:

"The record shows nothing of the kind."

"You are —— liar," shouted Judge Priest. As he spoke he wheeled about and struck Gilliam in the face with his fist.

Gilliam reeled and fell, and Judge Priest struck him again as he lay on the floor. The chair in which Gilliam had been sitting was broken.

Other lawyers pulled him away and prevented him from continuing the attack on the prostrate man.

Judge Muench made no effort to conceal his indignation.

Leaning over his desk, he shook his finger at Judge Priest and said: "You have disgraced this court. It is incredible that a man of your standing at the bar should so far forget himself."

Then turning to a deputy, he said: "Have that man placed in the custody of the Sheriff and keep him in custody until he apologizes."

Judge Priest advanced to the bar and said:

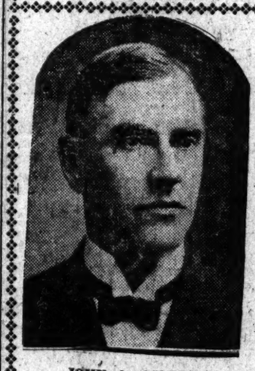
"I humbly apologize. But I was tired of being insulted by that man."

Later Judge Priest went into the private chamber of Judge Muench and remained there several minutes with the Judge.

Judge Priest, though released, is still constructively under arrest. Judge Muench will reopen the matter Friday.

Judge Priest left the courtroom accompanied by his sons, George and Blodgett Priest, attorneys.

JUDGE HENRY S. PRIEST.



JOHN A. GILLIAM.

"We will give out a statement at father's office later in the day," said George Priest.

Attorney William R. Gentry led Gilliam from the courtroom. Gilliam's left eye was blackened by the first blow, and his cheek was swollen.

Gentry accompanied Gilliam to his office, saying as he left the Court House that he would call a physician.

Judge Priest told a Post-Dispatch reporter after he reached his office that this was the first time, in 30 years of practice, that he had allowed himself to lose his temper.

"I am very sorry it happened," he said. "It is humiliating to me to be mixed up in an affair of this nature. After Mr. Gilliam had challenged my statement and called them false I advanced toward him and slapped him in the face.

"Mr. Gilliam has been trying to irritate me for some time, and his thrusts were directed at me personally., I am willing to apologize to the Court, or make any necessary reparation."

It was Judge Priest who, in defending the late Robert M. Snyder on the charge of bribery in the Central Traction case, declared bribery to be "a conventional offense."

Gilliam is 60 years old and slender. In physical proportions he is in striking contrast to Judge Priest, who is large of build, taller than Gilliam and much heavier. Gilliam was treated at his office by Dr. A. V. Marguard.

GIRLS DRUGGED AND HAIR CLIPPED AS THEY SLEEP

Smell of Chloroform Noticed in the Room When Victims Are Aroused.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

STERLING, Ill., Nov. 4.—The residents of Council Hill in Jo Daviess County, are excited over the cutting of the long and flowing hair from the heads of Edith and Mary Willis. The girls possessed remarkably beautiful hair and were the envy of their friends.

Tuesday night, after the family had gone to bed, someone slipped into the house, gave both of the girls chloroform, cut off their hair and escaped. The family did not discover the act until later in the night, when a son returned from a party and found the door to their home open.

Going to the bedroom of the girls, the discovery was made that the flowing hair had been cut from their heads and that the girls were sound asleep. It was with much difficulty that they were awakened. Their lips were partly burned and there was a smell of chloroform in the room.

The family discovered small footprints about the house and it is believed that the deed was done by a woman. It is thought that jealousy was the motive for the deed.

"TELL IT TO THE DANES," IS LATEST SLANG PHRASE. MEANING "YOU'RE ANOTHER"

Here is the newest slang expression:

It started in New York, and is sweeping over the East and it is scheduled to arrive in St. Louis on the first run of that new 24-hour train.

It contains only six words, but it is expressive of deep-seated incredulity.

"Aw, tell it to the Danes."

That's it.

When a smooth spoken man comes to your door with a package wrapped in oil paper and tells you that it is the best creamery butter, and that he will sell it for 21 cents a pound, you needn't waste words.

Don't say, "Why, you can't sell butter at that price. It must be oleomargarine."

Just fix him with your eye and exclaim:

"Aw, tell it to the Danes."

He won't wait to argue with you.

The new slang was used effectively in New York on election night when Hearst supporters were claiming everything in sight.

Every time a man watching the bulletin screens would yell:

"Hearst wins," the crowd would respond in chorus: "Aw, tell it to the Danes."

If you should wake up some morning and some one should tell you that the United Railways Co. paid its mill tax, you can try the new slang for yourself.

GOGGLE-EYED BURGLAR RUNS FROM A GIRL

Amelia Kaiser, Aged 14, Threatens Man With Weapon, Fears to Fire.

WEARS A FALSE BEARD

Strikes Child on the Head When Little One Playfully Bites Him.

Fourteen-year-old Amelia Kaiser grappled with a thief in her home at 2124 East Prairie avenue, recovered a portion of the money he had stolen and scared him out of the house by threatening to shoot him, but she was more afraid of the revolver than of the robber, so she did not shoot.

Amelia lives with Mrs. August Klotsch, her aunt. About 3 p. m. Wednesday Mrs. Klotsch went to a grocery store, leaving Amelia with the two Klotsch children, Dorothy, 2½ years old, and Martha, 8 months old.

The girl was in the kitchen with the children when she heard a noise which seemed to come from the attic. Picking up Martha, with Dorothy clinging to her hand, she went up to the attic and searched its gloom without finding even a goblin.

Amelia returned downstairs with the children and went into her bedroom, where she saw a man wearing big goggles and what she thinks was a false beard and mustache, in the act of taking a purse from under a pillow.

Putting Martha on the floor, Amelia sprang at the thief in an effort to get the purse. She opened it and recovered some change, but the robber kept the purse and a $5 bill.

During the struggle little Dorothy, who has a trick of biting her father in play, took a hand—or rather a mouth—in the proceedings. She thought Amelia was playing with the man, so she approached him and bit him in the leg. The thief struck the child on the head and knocked her down.

Amelia, enraged at this, ran to the dresser and took a revolver from a drawer.

"Get out of the house, or I'll shoot you!" she cried.

"If you yell, I'll kill you!" returned the robber, who jumped over the bed and disappeared through a window.

Mrs. Klotsch returned a little later and notified the police.

Witnesses Assert Collins Assault was Unprovoked

Then I saw O'Hearn hit Collins on the head twice with his club."

Fred F. Graser of 5234 Theodosia avenue said: "I was within three or four feet of Collins when the trouble occurred. We were not making any noise on the corner while we were waiting for a southbound Union avenue car. Policeman O'Hearn came across the street and pushing Richard Johnson aside, he stood in front of Collins and said: 'Move away from here.'

"Before Collins had time to do anything O'Hearn kicked him in the groin. Collins threw his hands to his stomach, as if in great pain. O'Hearn hit him on the head once with the club and Collins fell, his back sliding down the telegraph post."

Frank Henke of 1515A Semple avenue said: "I was within two feet of Collins when O'Hearn came across the street. He pushed me and Johnson aside and picked Collins out of the crowd. The first words O'Hearn said were, 'You move.' Collins answered, 'I am waiting for a car.'

"O'Hearn then kicked him in the groin and hit him on the head with his club. After Collins fell, O'Hearn stood over him and said: 'Wait some place else for a car, you ——— ———.'"

Harry Yenger, a sub-operator at the Idle Hour Odeon, where Collins was employed, said: "I was standing right alongside of Collins. We were not making any noise. Collins had a pocket comb and had taken that out to comb his hair. After doing that he took a ticket to the Twin Sisters' dance from his pocket and was looking at it when O'Hearn came across the street.

"The policeman pushed two fellows aside—I don't remember just who they were—and walked up to Collins and said: 'You move away from this corner.' I heard Collins say: 'I am waiting for a car, Jimmie.' Collins knew O'Hearn, but I never heard of them having any trouble.

Threatened to "Trim" Another.

"Without another word being passed O'Hearn kicked Collins in the stomach. Collins doubled up and threw his hands down. O'Hearn then hit him on the head with the stick, knocking him down. I tried to help him up, but O'Hearn said to me: 'You beat it, or I'll trim you, too, you big ——.'

"The policeman took Collins across the street and a patrol wagon was called. I went to Mr. Hawkins' home and told him what had happened. Mr. Hawkins went to the police station and signed Collins' bond. Collins was able to walk to the house, it was but a little distance, but he could not talk well. He was crying and said he wanted to go home to his sister.

"Mr. Hawkins told him he had better stay at his house and he would get a doctor. Collins said he would stay with Mr. Hawkins."

WASHINGTON U. PLANS $800,000 BUSINESS HOUSE

Association Buys Large Tract of Land Adjoining the Coliseum.

The Washington University Association has purchased through the McNair & Harris Realty Co. 191 feet by 185 feet of ground on the south side of Washington avenue, between Jefferson avenue and Beaumont, beginning 90 feet west of the Coliseum. The purchase price was $65,000 and the association has plans for the erection on the site of a $800,000 mercantile building.

The Washington University Association was represented in the transaction by Robert S. Brookings.

Fletcher H. Harris, vice-president of the McNair and Harris Company, said plans for the new building are being discussed with the prospective tenant, whose identity will not be made public at this time, and that the association expects to begin construction in the early future.

The tract was sold for the account of Alice Hebart, and, with the land already held by the association at the west end of the purchase, will give the association a total Washington avenue frontage of 281 feet. The new building will occupy the entire tract and will cost about $800,000.

The fact that the Washington University Association has taken the initiative in the extension of mercantile building operations on Washington avenue west of Jefferson avenue, foreshadows a big development movement in this section.

BLACKMAIL CHARGE EXPECTED IN BIG FOUR SHORTAGE CASE

Reported That Former Employe Extorted Big Sums From Deposed Official.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4.—While the whereabouts of C. L. Warriner, the deposed local treasurer of the Big Four Railroad in this city, have not been disclosed, it was given out today that Warriner has returned from New York in company with officials of the road with whom he has been conferring regarding the tangle in his accounts.

Officials of the road refuse to give out details as to the extent of the supposed shortage variously estimated at $50,000 to $100,000, or what procedure is to be taken in the matter. It was intimated this morning that the arrest of a Chicago man in connection with the Warriner case on a charge of blackmail is contemplated.

It is said this man was at one time an employe of the Big Four and that he had knowledge of an alleged earlier defalcation on the part of Warriner and that he used this knowledge to extort large sums of money from his victim.

"But I find in the life of your parents," he remarked the Judge, "much sadness that I need not recall."

"And why?" challenged Mme. Steinheil as calmly as a statue given the power of speech.

Comes to Defense of Father.

"Because," the Judge shot back in surprise, "I think you have enough for which you are responsible without answering for the faults of your parents."

"But I wish to answer at once," protested this remarkable woman in a voice that rang with defiance. "They have accused my father of being a drunkard. I have heard it with a breaking heart. He married a young girl, one very poor, and of that, if they wish, he was guilty. But he was a worthy man, loved by all."

It was Mme. Steinheil's first word in her own defense.

The Judge brought out that her father died suddenly. With bated breath the courtroom heard him say:

"You are accused already of the death of your mother; I do not wish to accuse you of having caused the death of your father."

Then the militant spirit of Mme. Steinheil was aroused. She fought back like a caged tigress. Step by step she battled against the accusations that her husband was aware of her shame in engaging the Villa Vort Logis as a house of rendezvous.

"It is false," she cried. "He never knew."

They brought out charges that she is said to have made against her husband, unprintable accusations against his morals.

"It is false," she cried again. "I never said it."

Says She Was Made to Lie.

She was confronted with statements she made at her preliminary hearing.

"You lied," declared the Judge.

"I did not lie; they made me lie," she screamed. "My examination was a martyrdom."

She repeated that phrase a second later, but thus repeated, it became theatric; it lost its first effect.

Then began such a baiting of a prisoner as is never seen outside a Latin country. Mme. Steinheil, furious, weeping, sobbing at one moment, fiery with anger the next, remorseful as she admitted a fault that in the decalogue is classed as a sin, she turned first upon her judges, then upon the newspaper reporters, saying they drove her into lies, subterfuges and false accusations. She swore that her only real belief was that a band of Levites had committed the crime.

Trial Like a Melodrama.

Through it all she was dramatic; only occasionally did she become theatric. One thought of a melodrama; and it must be admitted, a melodrama that lacked conviction. Throughout she was the actress of such talent as the mimic stage has rarely seen. But more than once, to speak in terms of the theater, she overplayed her part.

She told of her lovers repentantly and with loathing, sometimes with a disgust that brought laughter. But laughter was rare in the Court of Assizes. It may have been melodrama, but there was no comedy.

When the history of the day is reviewed the impression that remains is that of a sinful and a sinned against woman, who, above all else, is an actress, dramatizing her own life, feasting on the sensations she creates, resourceful, impressionable, willful, deceitful, but for all that, perhaps, innocent of the heinous crimes of which she is accused.

Mme. Steinheil accuses M. Andre, examining magistrate, of brutal treatment in examining her after her arrest. His bullying accusations, she declares, were the cause of her apparent contradictions and admissions, which she now repudiates.

Accused of Cruelty to Calves.

The sight of six calves being trampled upon by 10 others in one of the wagons of the Nelson Morris Packing Co. moved Nicholas Schenk, insurance man, to pity and resulted in the arrest of the driver of the wagon, Fred Hans of 2717 Clark avenue, on a charge of cruelty to animals Wednesday evening.

FINED FOR VIOLATING LAW HE HELPED TO HAVE PASSED

St. Louis Concern Put Ground Olive Stones in Spices Contrary to Statute.

After contributing largely to a fund to aid in the passage of a Federal pure-food law, the Hanley & Kinsella Coffee and Spice Co., of St. Louis, was one of the first to suffer its penalties. The company was fined $50 and costs by Judge Dyer of the United States District Court, Thursday, for adulterating and mis-labeling spices.

The company pleaded guilty to adulterating spices with ground olive and fruit stones, but said the practice had been discontinued as soon as objection was made by the Government inspectors.

Attorney Adolph A. Mayne, representing the company, told Judge Dyer that William J. Kinsella, president of the company, had contributed liberally to a fund raised for the passage of a pure-food law, and that the violation was not intentional. Mr. Mayne said it was a question as to whether ground olive stones really constitute an adulteration of spices, although the use is prohibited by the new pure-food law.

EXONERATED, COMPLAINS OF HIS TREATMENT BY POLICE

Dr. George W. Hess Says He Was Handcuffed to Negro After His Arrest.

Dr. George W. Hess, who was exonerated by Judge Klene on a charge of arson, following a fire at his drug store at 5420 Gravois road in August, is indignant at his treatment by the police.

He says that his confinement for 72 hours in Jail caused him a loss of several thousand dollars. His drug stock, which experts testified was valued at $5700 before the fire, was rendered almost valueless, he says, by the want of care by being soaked with water and injured by smoke.

Hess complains that while he was in custody, and while his store was supposed to be watched by the police, a large amount of cigars, liquors, cordials and a case of surgical instruments disappeared. These he values at $120.

After he was taken to the Mounted District Police Station, Hess says he was kept on the move, and put through the "Third Degree," and was not allowed to communicate with friends or attorneys. Later he was handcuffed to a negro and taken to the Central Station.

Hess says he was kept in Jail from midnight on a Wednesday until 4 p. m. the following Sunday before he was allowed to be released on bond obtained by his brother, John N. Hess of Chicago.

Grandchildren Principal Guests.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 4.—The great-grandchildren of Fountain T. Hulett, aged 71, and Mrs. Sarah M. Stigers, aged 70, both of this city, were the principal guests at the wedding of the old couple, near Hatton. The bridegroom said, "Well, we're both old and lonesome, and Mrs. Stigers needs so...one to take care of the place, so I guess I'll go over and take it."

Is Given $5000 for His Foot.

JACKSON, Tenn., Nov. 4.—Wesley Williams was given a verdict for $5000 against a lumber company for the loss of a foot while employed at the mill. He had sued for $10,000.

Discomfort of Indigestion

Is usually the result of improper food.

Right food will correct the trouble.

Grape-Nuts

is a predigested, scientifically made, pure food, that nourishes and strengthens the weakest stomach.

"There's a Reason" for

GRAPE-NUTS

Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

DOCTOR ON FOOD
Experimented on Himself.

A physician of Galion, O., says: "For the last few years I have been a sufferer from indigestion and although I have used various remedies and prepared foods with some benefit it was not until I tried Grape-Nuts that I was completely cured.

"As a food it is pleasant and agreeable, very nutritious and is digested and assimilated with very little effort on the part of the digestive organs.

As a nerve food and restorer it has no equal and, as such, is especially adapted to students and other brain workers. It contains the elements necessary for the building of nerve tissue and by so doing maintains an equilibrium of waste and repair.

"It also enriches the blood by giving an increased number of red blood corpuscles and in this way strengthens all the organs, providing a vital fluid made more nearly perfect. I take great pleasure in recommending its use to my patients for I value it as a food and know it will benefit all who use it."

MEDICAL STUDENT FINED $10 FOR TRESPASS, TAKES APPEAL

Donlin Says He Copied Names From College Roster for Advertising Purposes.

Alfred Lyman Donlin, a student of the Barnes Medical College, was fined $10 and costs by a jury in the Dayton Street Police Court Wednesday for trespassing on the premises of the College of Physicians and Surgeons. It was alleged Donlin went to the office of Dr Waldo Briggs, dean of the college, October 14 to copy the names of students from the roster.

Donlin admitted he was in Dr. Briggs' office, as charged, but said he was admitted by an employe, and that he was copying the names for advertising purposes. About 200 students of the two medical colleges sat in the courtroom all day to hear the trial.

A policeman secreted in Dr. Briggs' office arrested Donlin, who was formerly a student of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and later went to the Barnes school. He appealed.

CHILD ASKS AID IN THE SEARCH FOR HER GRANDFATHER

She Last Saw Him Easter Sunday and Believes He Is in St. Louis.

Jennie Dupre, 10 years old, a student in the Immaculate Heart Convent at Normandy, Mo., is anxious to find her grandfather, Felix Martin, whom she has not heard from since last Easter Sunday. Martin formerly boarded at 2027 Franklin avenue.

Jennie does not know where her grandfather has gone. It is thought he is somewhere in St. Louis. He is 73 years old. Jennie would appreciate it if any reader of the Post-Dispatch knowing the whereabouts of her grandfather would send word to her through the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart.

ST. LOUIS GIRL'S MARQUIS ADMITS HE IS IMPOSTOR

Honeymoon Interrupted by Message From Vicomte D'Ollone in Paris.

SHE STILL LOVES HIM

Says She Will Join Man She Liked Better Than Widower Smith.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Miss Adah Durlacher, granddaughter of George N. Jewett of St. Louis, and herself recently a resident of St. Louis, married an impostor. He has confessed that his titles are fraudulent, and departed from the city.

The young woman, asserting undying love for the man of her choice, has forgiven him, and will join him soon. She calmly remarks, "I have forgiven him his deception, and it is no one else's business."

The young woman tearfully admitted to a reporter at the home of her father, Jonas F. Durlacher, 12 Jumel terrace, that her new husband had confessed to her that he was no Marquis and no Count, but that he had merely assumed these titles.

As to the wealth, she said, there was tangible evidence, for he had put on deposit with the National City Bank of this city $25,000 worth of stocks, besides presenting letters of credit from the Bank of England and the Bank of France, which had been duly honored.

The admission of Mrs. D'Ollone came as a result of the activities of her father, who, on being informed that the Vicomte d'Ollone had telegraphed the Paris correspondent of the New York Times that the man who said he was Marquis de Fauconcourt was an impostor, sent for his daughter and the so-called Marquis, who had gone to Atlantic City on their honeymoon trip.

Mr. Durlacher, who runs the Associated Trades Credit Exchange at 621 Broadway, had professed intense surprise over the evidence that the "Marquis" was not genuine.

"I don't believe a word of it," declared Mr. Durlacher. "Why, the Marquis showed me his passports to prove that he was a Marquis and a Count. They were made out in Paris and were duly signed, as I recall it, by the authorities there.

To Mr. Durlacher was shown the dispatch from Paris, so that he might read for himself the charge made by the Vicomte d'Ollone.

This dispatch was to the point. It said: "The person in question is an impostor. There exists no Marquis de Fauconcourt. Nor is there any Vicomte d'Ollone except my brother, who is now in Angiers with his wife."

After this, Mr. Durlacher meditated a few moments. Then he exclaimed:

"I'll tell you what I am going to do. I'm going to send for the Marquis this very instant and tell him and my daughter to come home. I am going to have the Marquis tell you that this charge of the Vicomte d'Ollone is false."

Summons Newlyweds.

Thereupon Mr. Durlacher, going to another room in his office, called his daughter up on the telephone at the hotel at Atlantic City, where she and her husband were spending their honeymoon. Mr. Durlacher informed the reporter, on leaving the telephone, that his daughter and her husband would come at once to the city.

Later the Post-Dispatch reporter was received at the Durlacher home by a very slender young woman, fair-haired and blue-eyed.

"I am Mrs. d'Ollone, wife of the Marquis, and all this is a terrible shock to me," she said. "I don't know what to say to you. My father sent for my husband and me to come home from Atlantic City. He told us of what the Vicomte d'Ollone had said—that my husband had falsely assumed the titles of Marquis and Count.

"What the Vicomte d'Ollone says is true. My husband has admitted to me that he is no Marquis and no Count. Oh, it has all upset me."

Confessed to His Wife.

"After my father had left the room and we were together," she said, "I asked my husband what it all meant. I told him it looked queer to me that the Vicomte d'Ollone, of whom he had never spoken to me, should make such a charge against him if it were not true. I assured him I had every confidence in him and could not love him less, but that I wanted him to confide in me if there was anything that he wished to say.

"He thought a moment and then said to me: 'It is true. I bought the two titles. I was traveling through France a year or so ago and reached a town where an official told me, after some conversation, that he had two titles for sale. The family that once owned them was extinct, he told me, and I could have the titles if I paid enough for them. Money was no consideration with me. I had plenty of it.'"

Realized Her Love for Him.

"I realized then more than ever that I loved the man who had become my husband, whether Marquis or not. I had given up another to marry him, and ours was a marriage of love.

"The thought that came to my mind then was that my husband, when the truth came out, would have to face an avalanche of criticism. I told him he would have to leave town for a few days. He told me he was willing to do everything I suggested. We packed his suit case and he left. He won't be back until I send word to him.

"Our plan was," Mrs. D'Ollone proceeded, "to stay in this country on our honeymoon for a week or so and then go abroad, where I expected to visit the estate of my husband. He has assured me that he has an estate in Besancon, France, and we will go there some day, but not now."

GIRL'S GRANDFATHER SAYS "I TOLD YOU SO"

"I told you so. Adah would have done a great deal better if she had married that Mr. Smith she was engaged to last August," Mr. Jewett told a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday.

"I'm too busy to talk much about this bogus Count. Anyway, I wouldn't have cared any more for him if he had been a real Count.

"I am really sorry for my granddaughter. A 47-year-old widower named Smith, who has two children will make a better husband than a nobleman every time.

"This ought to be a warning to American girls. It seems to me they have seen enough of these international marriages to know that chasing after a title doesn't make any girl happy."

SUFFRAGETTE WHO THREW ACID ON BALLOTS IS COMMITTED

Mrs. Chapin, Who Burned Election Official, Is Held on Two Charges.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Chapin, the militant suffragette who made an attack on a polling place during the Bermondsey by-election last Thursday, was committed for trial by the magistrate at the Old Bailey today on the double charge of having unlawfully meddled with a ballot-box and caused grievous harm to the presiding officer.

Mrs. Chapin broke a bottle containing corrosive acid on a ballot-box with the apparent intention of destroying the ballots which the box contained. The acid, little of which found its way into the box, spattered upon election officials, one of whom was severely burned.

HIRED MAN KILLS FAMILY OF FIVE

Husband, Wife, Children and Grandmother Murdered.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Nov. 4.—George Thoburn and his family of four were murdered at their home on a farm at Quill Lake, and John Mesel, the hired man, has confessed to the crime.

The Thoburn family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Thoburn, a boy, 4 years old; a girl of 2 years, and Mrs. McNiven, mother of Mrs. Thoburn, aged 60 years. The entire family was killed with an ax and a revolver. Parts of the bodies were found widely scattered.

Jersey Cow Sells for 1200.

VANDALIA, Ill., Nov. 4.—At a public sale of Jersey cattle at Willowdale Farm 91 head brought $27,209, an average of $299. One cow sold for $1200. Buyers were here from 25 States.

Fermentation and Flatulence Prevented

In the Stomach by Charcoal, the Great Absorbent, Anti-Fermentative, and Deodorant.

Some years ago Dr. Belloc, a retired surgeon of the French army, turned his attention to charcoal as a remedy for dyspepsia, fermentation and flatulence, or gas in the stomach and intestines. He was himself a sufferer from these symptoms, and thus had an opportunity of testing personally its therapeutic action.

He decided after many tests that charcoal made of willow wood was by far the best. He found that charcoal made of other woods caused a disagreeable taste in the mouth—even painful excoriations of the mucous membrane, as well as thirst, and a pinching sensation in the stomach; but not one of these symptoms ever occurred when willow charcoal was employed.

He was in the habit of prescribing from two to six teaspoonfuls for his patients, but he himself frequently took as much as 500 grammes, or more than fifteen ounces per day. There is really no such thing as taking too much charcoal. An excess cannot be taken, for the reason that the more you take the better it is for you, as it is entirely harmless, and through its use your system will be completely cleansed of all its impurities, the fermentation of food and the formation of gas in the stomach prevented and the absorption of toxic products or poisonous material into the blood from the stomach and intestines estopped.

When a regular physician took as much as fifteen ounces of charcoal daily, its harmlessness and beneficial effects as an absorbent, deodorant, germ-destroyer and dyspepsia cure should be apparent to all.

The Academie Nationale de Medicine of Paris reported very favorably on a memoir which Dr. Belloc published on the use of charcoal, and in France it soon became a favorite remedy. Its reputation spread to this country and now we find charcoal lozenges extensively sold, prescribed and employed as dyspepsia remedies. Dr. Belloc's charcoal was administered to his patients in the form of a powder stirred up in water, which was very disagreeable to the taste, and its efficacy was far less than in the form of a lozenge.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are a great and happy improvement upon this form of administering charcoal. They are made of the best willow charcoal, freshly prepared, and rendered exceedingly palatable by the addition of pure honey, which gives them a taste that is in strong contrast to that of ordinary powdered charcoal. Nothing could be more efficacious in its effects than charcoal given in this desirable form. Two or three of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges taken after meals are suffient to give complete relief. Go to your druggist and buy a box, but insist on having Stuart's, as there are many worthless imitations on the market, not made of willow wood, but of poplar, box-wood, dog-wood, etc., which are not good for the system. For sale everywhere, 25 cents per box. Sample box will be sent free by mail upon request. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

NEW OLIVE STREET BUILDING

Plans are under consideration for the purchase of property fronting 127 feet on the south side of Olive street and 60 feet on the east side of Seventh street as a site for a new combination mercantile and office building. NOT ONLY DYSPEPSIA AND GAS BUT ALL STOMACH MISERY WILL VANISH.

Why not get some now—this moment, and forever rid yourself of Stomach trouble and Indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good eat, then take Pape's Diapepsin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eructations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and Dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of Indigestion and Upset Stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and, besides, one single dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapepsin works, your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all Stomach Misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to take a little Diapepsin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diapepsin, because you want to become thoroughly cured this time.

Remember, if your stomach feels out-of-order and uncomfortable now you can get relief in five minutes.

SHIELD MADE TO SAVE SUBWAY IF BUILDING FALLS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—That there is imminent peril in and about the $3,000,000 Criminal Court Building, which the building department yesterday ordered to be vacated, was made evident today by preparations for the construction of a heavy timber shield to be laid over the surface of Lafayette street—one of the streets upon which it faces—to protect the subway should the building collapse.

Street car service on Center street, another of the streets upon which the building fronts, was interrupted this morning and the passengers were made to alight two squares above or below the building.

Traffic in the subway was allowed to continue, but instructions were given to pass the threatened spot at reduced speed. The city prison, familiarly known as the Tombs, which adjoins the Criminal Courts Building, was visited by building inspectors today on the report that it too, was settling.

PRINCE'S SLAYER SOUGHT IN GRAVE OF A PAUPER

Homeless Man Believed to Be Baron von Vetsera, Who Also Killed Sister.

CRIME 20 YEARS AGO

Slain Ones Found Together and Slayer Never Heard of After.

By Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 4.—Was Louis von Vetsera, otherwise known as Frank Wykoff, who now lies in a pauper's grave in Riverside Cemetery here, really Baron Louis von Vetsera, brother of Countess Marie von Vetsera, whose dead body lying alongside that of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria, in the latter's hunting lodge at Meyerling, Austria, 20 years ago, revealed a tragedy that has since remained a mystery, is a question that the Austrian Embassy at Washington is endeavoring to clear up through the local Consul, George von Grivicic.

Investigation was begun on telegraphic orders from Washington and grew out of a telegram from San Francisco from an unknown source requesting funds to bury Louis Vetsera, who had died in this city Oct. 30. Consul Grivicic was instructed to seek the aid of Mayor Speer, if necessary, to locate the body of Vetsera.

Although, according to the Consul, it is the custom of representatives of the Austrian Government in this country to keep track of all deaths of countrymen, the fact that the assistance of the Mayor was to be sought indicated that the Austrian Ambassador was more than ordinarily interested in identifying the Vetsera supposed to have died here.

After the tragic death of his sister, Baron von Vetsera disappeared. Some credited him with the murder of his sister and the Crown Prince because they refused to break off their alleged illicit relations, and many believed he afterwards committed suicide.

Whereabouts Not Known.

Consul von Grivicic declares that as far as he knows the Baron never came to the United States, and he is not aware that his whereabouts were known to his Government.

At the instruction of Mayor Speer, the police authorities have been tracing the career of Frank Wykoff. They have learned that his real name was Louis Vetsera, and that he lived a secluded life in this city. He was afflicted with consumption and was penniless in his latter days. He died in the County Hospital and attendants have learned in some manner that he had served a sentence in San Quentin penitentiary.

Previous to coming to Denver, Wyckoff, or Von Vetsera, worked several months in Pueblo as a mill man.

WOMAN LEAPS FROM CAR TO FOLLOW HUSBAND TO LODGE

Mrs. Tracy So Badly Hurt by Fall That She Is Taken to the City Hospital.

Mrs. Clara Tracy, 24 years old, was taken to the City Hospital Thursday from her home at 1007 Cass avenue to be treated for injuries received when she jumped off a Cass car in the middle of the block between Fourteenth street and Blair avenue to keep up with her husband, Elmer E. Tracy, who was trying to attend a lodge meeting against her protest.

Tracy, who is a baker, says he was initiated a week ago Wednesday night into Aerie No. 41, Fraternal Order of Eagles, which holds weekly meetings in a hall at 2727 Pine street.

"I was eager to attend the first meeting after becoming a member," he said, "but my wife strongly opposed my going. I had arranged to meet Al Fuchs at Fourteenth and Cass. He was initiated with me, and we were going to the lodge together. When the car passed Fourteenth street and Fuchs did not get aboard, I jumped off up the block to wait for him.

"Before I reached the sidewalk a woman jumped off the same car and fell. I was astonished to find that she was my wife. I took her home after a doctor dressed her bruises at a drug store, and I didn't go to the lodge."

Dr. Otto L. Wolter of 1446 Blair avenue says Mrs. Tracy probably received internal injuries and a fracture of the shoulder blade.

WOMEN PUT ON SCHOOL BOARD

New York Mayor Names Three to Fill Vacancies.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Three women were appointed by Mayor McClellan today to fill vacancies on the Board of Education. The three new commissioners are Miss Olivia Leventritt, daughter of Ex-Judge David Leventritt; Mrs. Helen Carroll Robbins, wife of Herbert D. Robbins, of McKesson & Robbins, druggists, and Mrs. Alice L. Post, wife of Alfred S. Post, 20 Bowne avenue, Flushing.

Miss Leventritt, who may take office at once, as her appointment fills the vacancy caused by the death of Walter Alexander, is a Jewess. Mrs. Robbins is a Roman Catholic, and Mrs. Post is an Episcopalian. The last two will take office in January.

These are not the first women to serve on the Board of Education but they are the first to be named by Mayor McClellan. Years ago Mayor Strong named two women, Miss Grace Dodge and Mrs. Agnew, as school commissioners, and before that Mrs. Ellen Harden served on the board.

ARCHBISHOP RYAN DECLARES AGAINST RUGBY FOOTBALL

He Declares Game Is Barbarous and Should Be Replaced by Association.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—"Football is barbarous and ought to be abolished," said Archbishop Ryan today. "Instead, they should play association football. It is the kind we played when I was at college, where the players kick the ball and not each other." Archbishop Ryan's comment was brought out by the death of Michael Burke, a student at the Medico-Chirurgical College, who received fatal injuries in a game last Saturday.

Burke, whose home was in Shenandoah, was a member of the Cathedral while attending college here and was personally known to the Archbishop. Burke's funeral was held today at Shenandoah.

SO MANY POTTER PALMERS THAT BABY HAS NO NAME

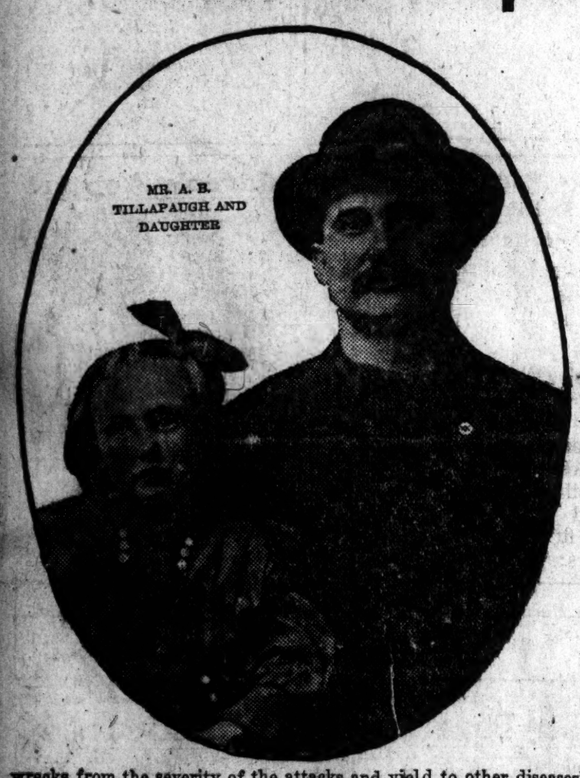
Potter Palmer Jr. Beaten in Honoring Father by His Brother Honore.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—"Wanted: One name for a baby."

The baby in question, a boy, boasts 6 months of life. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer Jr., and his grandparents are Mrs. Potter Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kinsolving. Honore Palmer chose to call the boy Potter Palmer, for his father instead of Honore Palmer himself. When the son arrived in the family of Potter Palmer Jr., there was already a Potter Palmer III. Should the son of Potter Palmer II be Potter Palmer IV? Possibly, but he hasn't so far.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that prints or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

Picture of Health After Whooping Cough



MR. A. B. TILLAPAUGH AND DAUGHTER

Mr. A. B. Tillapaugh, of Chesterton, Ind., says his little daughter's lungs were left very weak after a severe attack of whooping cough. For years they tried various remedies without good results; finally, when the case seemed almost hopeless they tried Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey with marvelous success.

Mr. Tillapaugh writes: "My little daughter, who is now 7 years old, at the age of 7 months had a severe attack of whooping cough, which left her lungs in a very weakened condition. She grew worse in spite of all we could do. Different doctors prescribed for her, but without effect. We dragged along this way for nearly six years, almost hopeless but not conquered.

"A friend advised Duffy's Malt Whiskey and I procured a bottle. That was about five months ago. The first dose seemed to help her, and she is now at school and I think about cured. Thank God, my little girl is now the picture of health."

The little sufferers from whooping cough, measles and the other diseases incident to childhood often become physical wrecks from the severity of the attacks and yield to other diseases vastly more fatal. Want of nutrition from impaired digestion is usually the cause, but the kidneys, the lungs and air passages may be affected, and this too often leads to serious complications. What the little sufferers need, as in the case of Mr. Tillapaugh's daughter, is a remedy that will prove a food and a medicine at the same time. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is this remedy in perfection. It excites the proper digestion and assimilation of the food by its influence upon the salivary glands of the mouth and the gastric glands of the stomach; without requiring digestion, it is burned or oxidized within the body, and, like other foods, produces heat and energy. By its tonic and soothing influence upon the physical and mental forces it calms nervous irritability and gives tone and vigor to the body.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

as a tonic and stimulant is one of the greatest strength-givers known to science. It aids in destroying disease and by its building and healing properties assists in restoring tissues in a gradual, healthy, natural manner. It is a wonderful remedy in the treatment and cure of consumption, pneumonia, grippe, bronchitis, coughs, colds, malaria, low-fever, stomach troubles and all wasting, weakened conditions, if taken in time.

If in need of advice write Medical Department, Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, New York, stating your case fully. Our doctor will send you advice free, together with a handsome illustrated medical booklet, containing some of the many thousands of gratifying letters received from men and women in all walks of life, both old and young, who have been cured and benefited by the use of this great medicine. It is sold by druggists, grocers and dealers or direct, $1.00 per large bottle.

POETS TWAIN TO EASE PAIN OF SAD SWAIN

Justice Campbell Dares Aspire to Snatch Fame From Werremeyer.

LOW FEE, VERSE FREE

Lyric Rivals, Door to Door, Squabble Which Shall Wed the More.

If too can woo the Muses;
If too can odes indite;
When my afflatus chooses
It gets poetic quite.
And lyrics true and tender
With love that throb and thrill
My genius doth engender
For loving pairs at will.
—I. W. Campbell.

Poetic Justice Werremeyer thinks of moving to the Circuit Court at Clayton to have his name changed to Worrymeyer. The pronunciation would be the same, with only the spelling different. Events have cast a spell upon Werremeyer and pronounced his doom. He has a rival!

Lyrical Justice Campbell is the rival—Isaac Wordsworth Campbell. He has flung his gauntlet into the arena and announced that he is "THE Marrying Justice" of Clayton. The gauntlet hit the floor between the offices of the two justices like a bombshell, and the bomb exploded in the Werremeyer camp with startling detonations.

The Poetic Justice had just finished telling a caller that he broke his own record by marrying 77 couples last month, when he received the news, Thursday, that the Lyrical Justice, heretofore known only as Squire Ike Campbell, had rented office room in the capacious chamber of County Treasurer George Harpel, not fifty feet from Werremeyer's office, and right in the Courthouse basement, like his own quarters. Werremeyer himself used to occupy the office now occupied by Campbell. It was there that the Poetic Justice began his marvelous marrying career. Where the Poetic sat and administered justice and matrimony, the Lyrical will sit and administer matrimony and justice.

News Routs His Muse.

"And I thought," sighed Werremeyer, "that Campbell was going to move to Wellston, to take the place of Frank Noble, who has resigned and moved away! Who started that story, anyhow? This news stuns me so that I can't sing sonnets today. I feel dull and prosy, friends."

Campbell, the Lyrical, has been a Justice of the Peace in Clayton for six years, but he has had his office in the Bartold Building, away from the Courthouse, while Werremeyer and his predecessor have kept theirs inside the temple of justice itself, close by the marriage license office. Campbell knows how to marry people, but he has sat patiently looking from his windows at the pairs flocking toward the Werremeyer altar of Hymen and tried to content himself with ordinary litigation cases. But in all these years Campbell has been busy perfecting himself in the art of poesy. He read all of Poetic Justice Werremeyer's output as it was put out, from time to time, and contented the idea that he also could write poetry—and better poetry than his brother Justice. Campbell kept this to himself. He burned midnight kerosene in practicing at poetry. He laid in a rhyming dictionary, copies of the standard poets and Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Sidney Lanier, "Science of English Verse" and other textbooks on the art. He pored over these, and wrote many heart throbs which he packed away in his desk for future use.

Prices are the Same.

Now he has announced himself as the Lyrical Justice, and says he is going after the scalp of Werremeyer. He threatens to get both the marriages and the poetic fame.

In the window of his new office the Poetic Justice is having painted this sign:

"THE MARRYING JUSTICE."

"Werremeyer must pass by that taunting sign every day to get to and from his own office.

"The price will be the same in my office as in Werremeyer's," Justice Campbell says, "but the poetry will be better. I claim that I can beat Werremeyer both in rhyme and meter, and I am not so modest as to deny that I can excel him in quality of sentiment. I think my technique will prove to be superior to his. Wait and watch."

NEGRO RECEIVES CARNEGIE MEDAL FOR SAVING BABY

Forty-Nine Other Heroes Are Decorated by Bravery Commission.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 3.—The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission today handed down 50 awards to heroes, giving medals and money in most cases, for acts of heroism. With the exception of an award to a citizen of Canada, the persons remembered by the Carnegie commission are residents of the United States, 22 being of Ohio.

Approximately $33,000, 23 silver and 27 bronze medals were awarded. Of the 50 acts approved, 14 of the persons responsible for them met their death. In these cases, next of kin received the award.

Deeds of heroism during the flood at Athens, O., on March 14, 1907, received the greater part of the attention of the commission.

The acts of courage included saving children from trains, rescues from flood rivers, stopping runaway horses and carrying persons from burning buildings.

George E. McCue, a negro of Garden City, Kan., is given a bronze medal and $500 for educational purposes for his bravery shown in saving Jacquelyn K. Herman, an infant of 2 years, from death, Nov. 19, 1908. The commission finds that the mother of the child had left it in its carriage within a few feet of the Santa Fe tracks, while she went into the express office. A wind rolled the carriage onto the tracks into the path of a special train, which was going at the rate of 50 miles an hour. McCue had only time to reach the baby carriage and hurl it and the child to one side and fall off the track himself as the train raced by.

Clarence M. Thompson of Cimarron, Kan., is given a silver medal and $1000 for his work in trying to save the lives of Eugene G. Davis and Nelson C. Thompson, his own son, on May 19, 1909. Davis and young Thompson were digging a well on the Davis farm, 12 miles from Cimarron, and set a blast off.

William A. Bayless of Cimarron, Kan., is given a silver medal and $1000 for his heroic work in the rescue of the elder Thompson at the Davis well accident.

MIDAIR CIRCUS FOR MILLINERS

Horses Caper Around Sawdust Ring Ten Stories Up.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A circus ten stories in the air on the roof of the Hotel Astor has been arranged for the entertainment of the millinery jobbers from all of the big cities of the country, who are here for their annual convention.

A tent 200 feet long has been erected on the Astor roof, trick horses, ponies, monkeys and other animals have been hoisted up by derricks, a sawdust ring laid out, several midway shows set up and other features of the old-fashioned country circus have been arranged. The show will be given tonight and tomorrow night, but will not be open to the public.

A NEW INNOVATION.

For an illustration of the rapidity with which people accustom themselves to new ideas, it is only necessary for you to pay a visit to Brandt's, where you will receive as convincing an object lesson as you could wish.

Up to the 18th of September if anyone had suggested to you the possibility of buying gloves in a shoe store, you would have probably regarded it as an attempt at humor. However, this suggestion can now be given you with all the earnestness that can be associated with the statement of an absolute fact.

Since the date above mentioned the particular men and women of St. Louis, recognizing the value of the opportunity presented, have been going to Brandt's to get the Mark Cross London Gloves that are so well known in all the fashion centers of the world for their unequaled excellence. Heretofore they have been compelled to either defer their glove purchases until they have been in other cities where Cross goods are sold, or else content themselves with something inferior.

In addition to a complete showing of these gloves at Brandt's, there is a varied assortment of fashionable travel accessories that will appeal to the cultivated tastes of men and women of refinement.

Coal on Government Land.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 4.—After being out since last Saturday at noon, the jurors in the case of C. F. Watkins, tried for the murder of John Hill Bunting, reported that they were hopelessly disagreed and were discharged. The jury stood six for manslaughter and six for acquittal.

WALSH CASE REHEARING ASKED

Petition Avers Sentence Was Based on Misconception.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—A petition for rehearing in the case of John R. Walsh, the convicted Chicago banker, was filed today by attorneys for the plaintiff in error in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The petition sets forth that the opinion of the Court in its decision upholding the verdict of "guilty" from the Court below was based "upon a misconception of the case, and the rules of law applicable."

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

M. P. PUTS ON A FAST TRAIN TO JEFFERSON CITY

Will Be Known as the Capital City Express and Starts Nov. 8.

A new passenger train between St. Louis and Jefferson City, to be known as the "Capital City Express," will be put into service by the Missouri Pacific Railway No. 8.

The train will leave Union Station, daily except Sunday, at 4:30 p. m., and arrive in Jefferson City at 8:45 p. m. Leaving Jefferson City at 6:15 a. m. except Sunday, it will arrive in St. Louis at 10:30 a. m. It will make stops each way at Tower Grove, Valley Park, Pacific, Washington and all stations between Washington and Jefferson City.

The train will carry a combination baggage and smoking car, a day coach and a Pullman "broiler" parlor car. Passengers going out of St. Louis may obtain dinner on the train, and passengers from Jefferson City for St. Louis will find a steaming hot breakfast awaiting them when they board the train.

This new passenger train will enable State officials to come to St. Louis, transact a day's business and return to Jefferson City the same day. It will also make it convenient for persons living in the nearby towns to come to St. Louis and spend a part of the day shopping.

The train makes a fast run between St. Louis and Washington, but is followed closely by the Washington accommodation train. Beyond Washington the schedule will not be quite so fast, as stops will be made at all stations to let off passengers and put off the afternoon newspapers. The new train will enable the readers of afternoon newspapers to get them many hours earlier than heretofore. The train will be thoroughly modern.

GOULD LINES REACH THE PACIFIC

Completion of Connecting Link Will Help St. Louis.

With the completion of the last mile of the Western Pacific Railway in Nevada, the Gould lines have a connecting link between the Missouri Pacific, Denver & Rio Grande and the Pacific Coast. Early next year the Gould system intends to put on through trains from St. Louis to San Francisco.

With the Wabash extending eastward to Buffalo and Pittsburg the Gould roads now have a continuous line almost across the continent. The completion of the new railway will make St. Louis more important as a gateway for the passenger and freight traffic from the East to the West.

Apostle of Repopulation Dead.

WOMAN FORGIVES GIRL AUTO DRIVER WHO RAN OVER SON

Mother of Injured Lad, Won by Miss Hays' Solicitude, Won't Prosecute.

Rudolph Copeland, 8 years old, is under treatment at his home, 5120 Delmar boulevard, for bruises and bumps he received when he was struck Wednesday afternoon by an automobile driven by Miss Frances Hays, 16-year-old daughter of James Hays, 5123 Westminster place, president of the Audit and Bond Co. of America.

Miss Hays took the boy home in the automobile and by her sympathy and solicitude so favorably impressed his mother that she refused to prosecute Miss Hays.

The girl was going east on Fairmount avenue at 3:30 p. m. when the boy ran in front of the machine and was knocked down. Miss Hays quickly stopped the car, leaped out and picked the boy up. She learned where he lived, and, placing him in the car, drove it to his home.

Mrs. Copeland refused to have any complaint made against Miss Hays.

HELEN BOYLE SEEKS RETRIAL IN WHITLA KIDNAPING CASE

Friends Raise Money to Obtain Reversal of 25-Years' Sentence to Prison.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 4.—Attorney Stephen G. Porter this morning filed an appeal in the Superior Court in behalf of Helen Boyle, asking for a reversal of her sentence of 25 years to the penitentiary, inflicted in Mercer recently, after she was convicted of complicity in the kidnaping of Willie Whitla, the son of Attorney James Whitla of Sharon.

Helen Boyle was tried after her husband, James Boyle, had been tried and convicted. The appeal filed this morning is merely the formal paper and asks for a review of the case.

Friends of the woman, who is now in Riverside Penitentiary, have raised a fund to get a retrial.

BANKER MORSE CALLED FOR JURY DUTY, BUT IS LOCKED UP

Would Like to Leave Cell and Answer Call, but Is Detained.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Former banker Charles W. Morse, who is now in the Tombs prison pending an appeal from his sentence in the Federal Prison at Atlanta, was today served with a notice to appear forthwith for jury duty in the United States Circuit Court. The notice carried with it, the threat that Morse would be fined $250 if he violaed it.

When Morse saw this clause he summoned one of the Tombs attendants and stated that he was willing to go at once to the Federal Building, in accordance with the notice.

"It's a fine day. I'd like to go out and get some fresh air," he said.

The summons was issued in error, as, being under sentence, Mr. Morse would not be eligible to serve as a juror.

REED TO ENTER AS AN ASPIRANT TO U. S. SENATE

Law Partner of Former Mayor of Kansas City Makes Announcement.

SHOCKS FRANCIS MEN

Thought Folk Would Be Only Opponent—New Entrant a Stone Adherent.

Former Mayor James A. Reed of Kansas City, recognized leader of the Stone forces in Western Missouri, is to enter the race for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, according to the statement of his law partner, J. G. L. Harvey, to a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday.

Mr. Harvey holds the proxy of Joseph B. Shannon, member of the Democratic State Executive Committee which is in session at the State headquarters in the Commonwealth Trust Building. The Democratic Committee is completing arrangements for a big State conference to be held at Kansas City, Jan. 8.

"Mr. Reed has an army of loyal supporters all over the State," said Mr. Harvey. "I have seen it stated that he might withhold his candidacy if David R. Francis entered the fight, but that is not true. It can be said positively that Mr. Reed is going to run."

Surprise for Francis Men.

The Francis boomers will be surprised at Mr. Harvey's announcement, as they understood that, with the exception of former Gov. Folk, Francis would have no opposition for the senatorial nomination.

Vice-Chairman Johnson of the State Committee made it clear at Thursday's meeting that the campaign next year will be fought out on the tariff.

"State issues will be subordinated to the great tariff problem," said Judge Johnson. "The near-victory of the Democratic party in the recent Massachusetts State election is proof that the tariff is the paramount question before the people. Democratic victories have always been won on this issue.

"The Democracy of this State is now, I believe, harmonious and united, while the Republicans are divided.

"Gov. Hadley wants State issues pushed to the front, while the Federal crowd is anxious that the present iniquitous high tariff shall be defended."

PERSISTENT SMOKERS EJECTED FROM CHICAGO ELEVATED CARS

Management Resorts to Harsh Measures to Enforce Its New Regulation.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Following init'al failure to abolish smoking on the Chicago X Oak Park Elevated Railroad by polite persuasion, more vigorous methods were put in practice today and with success.

Men who insisted in smoking in spite of the guard's order to the contrary, received repayment of their fares with a request that they leave the train. If still obdurate, private detectives on each train ejected the offenders.

In the majority of cases cigars were abandoned on the appearance of the detectives, but a dozen or more men resisted to the last and were ejected. The matter will probably go to the courts.

MODEL STORE CLOSES; MARKING DOWN PRICES

Dissolution of Partnership Sale Begins Friday.

The Model, ready-to-wear apparel store for men, women and children, at Washington avenue and Seventh street, was not open for business Thursday. On the front door was this announcement:

CLOSED TODAY
To Mark Down Prices on Our Entire Stock for a DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP SALE, To Begin Tomorrow Morning.

This was the first time in the store's history that its doors were closed on a business day. Behind the closed doors clerks went through the stock, remarking everything in the house with sale prices showing reductions, members of the firm say, that in many cases amount to more than one-half of the regular prices.

An effort is to be made, according to announcements of the firm, to raise $300,000 within the shortest possible time, for the purpose of effecting a settlement between the present partners of the firm. A "Dissolution of Partnership Sale" is the method that has been chosen to accomplish this end.

This sale comes at the very height of the fall and winter season, giving purchasers an advantage that should appeal to economical buyers. It involves medium and high-grade merchandise from the world's best manufacturers, say The Model managers, and the entire stock is absolutely new, having been but recently received from the makers.

"The Model" was established in St. Louis seven years ago, and has been one of the leading clothing firms ever since. It carried everything in men's wearables, including clothing, furnishing goods, hats and shoes, and was equally complete in its boys' department.

The ladies' ready-to-wear department was introduced a year ago last March, and is said to have scored an instant success. This success was repeated when a millinery department was added last fall.

ELOPING GIRL REPENTS AND PHONES FOR MOTHER'S CONSENT

After eloping to Mexico, Mo., with Carl Wittig, Miss Bertha Pendleton of East St. Louis halted the marriage ceremony long enough to call up her mother by long distance telephone and get her consent.

Miss Pendleton, daughter of E. D. Pendleton of 1309 Baugh avenue, East St. Louis, went to Columbia, Mo., a few days ago to visit friends at the Christian College. Wittig, a chemist living at 422 North Ninth street, East St. Louis, met Miss Pendleton in a hotel in Mexico.

While they were waiting for a license, Miss Pendleton's brother, E. M. Pendleton, who was in Mexico buying mules, found them. Miss Pendleton explained that she was going to get married and her brother persuaded her to call up her mother and get her consent. Mrs. Pendleton reluctantly gave her consent.

Are You a Woman?

You Need a Tonic

Weak women need a tonic, to build up their constitution. All women feel weak, at times, and then they need a tonic worse than those who are always weak.

If you decide to take a tonic, why not take a woman's tonic—the woman's tonic, CARDUI?

Half a century of success behind it, proves that Cardui has merit, for it is only medicines of merit that "stick"—that sell for years, after the meritless medicines are forgotten.

Naturally, the Cardui success is attested by thousands of women who have tried it—who write us, giving us permission to publish their letters if we wish, for the sake of their suffering sisters, whom they pity and wish to benefit.

So, we gladly print this letter from Mrs. Lizzie Dodson, of Boss, Mo., to show those ladies who doubt, that what we claim is true. Mrs. Dodson writes:

"I just want to say that your Cardui is the best medicine in the world. Last winter I wasn't able to do my work for 5 weeks. I couldn't stand on my feet but a short time, I had such dreadful pains. One day I got my husband to buy me a bottle of Cardui, and by night I felt like a different woman. I have now been taking Cardui for four months and cannot praise it too highly for the good it has done me."

Cardui, the woman's tonic, is a safe, harmless vegetable extract, and should be taken by all women, young and old. Try it. It will help you

Whiskey for Colds

The Formula for Old Time Remedy Cured Thousands Here Last Winter.

The harmful use of whiskey for colds is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following is the formula:

Into two ounces of glycerine with eight ounces of good whiskey and add one-half ounce of Concentrated pine compound. Take a teaspoonful or a tablespoonful every four hours.

Any good druggist has these ingredients. Concentrated pine is a special pine product and comes only in half ounce bottles, each enclosed in an air-tight case, but be sure it is labeled "Concentrated."

A prominent local druggist says that for several years he has filled this prescription and has seen it make many remarkable cures, often curing the most severe coughs and colds in a day's time. Each one of the ingredients performs a special restorative function. • • •

Hugh K. Taylor and Miss O'Keefe Married at St. Mark's Catholic Church.

Hugh K. Taylor, vice-president and general manager of the St. Louis Star, and Miss Margaret O'Keefe of 5347A Minerva avenue, his stenographer, were married Thursday.

The ceremony was performed in St. Mark's Catholic Church, Page and Academy avenues, by the Rev. Father O'Rourke.

LORD MONTAGU WAS NOT WITH LADY CROFTON

English Nobleman Is in London While Elopers Are on the Atlantic.

TWO MEN ARE ALIKE

Each Owns a Green Automobile and Each Recently Became a Father.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—It was not Lord Montagu of Beaulieu, M. P., who eloped to this city with Lady Crofton. Just who was the young man is not plain, but Lord Montagu in an interview in London today says he is innocent. And he has the proof on his side, for Lady Crofton, her companion in flight, and her husband sailed from New York Tuesday.

However, Lord Montagu relates a series of incidents that show circumstantial evidence, like truth, is stranger than fiction. He is editor of the motoring journal, "The Car," and was in his editorial rooms when he was told of the report linking his name with that of the lady in question.

"You have got the wrong man," he said. "The real individual is another Montagu. For some time past I have been considerably annoyed by the questions of my friends concerning the matter.

"The first I heard of it was on my return from Paris after attending the international meeting of auto clubs there a week or two ago. On my first visit to the House of Lords one of my friends came up to me, saying, rather reproachfully: 'My dear old Montagu—so glad to see you back again. But what about the lady?' I didn't understand, and looked blank, so he went on: 'Oh, we all know about it. Seymour Fortesque, one of the King's equerries, saw you at the station in Paris with a lady.'

Two Montagu's Much Alike.

"After that I heard a story from other quarters to the effect that I had run off with Crofton's wife. On inquiry I found it was this other Montagu who was the man.

"This is where the chain of circumstances began. In the first place, it was known I was a friend of the Croftons. In the second place, he is a neighbor of mine. Then this Montagu is an ardent motorist, so am I. His chief car is painted green, so is mine."

Lord Montagu mentioned the color of the machine because it seems that Mr. Montagu took his green car with him when he went away, and tales of Mr. Montagu, the lady and the green car were heard all along the line which Mr. Montagu took on the elopement trip.

In fact, Lord Montagu said he had received a post card from Mrs. C. N. Williamson, the author, who was traveling in Algeria with her husband, chiding him for not looking them up while he was in Algeria, and saying she had heard all about his experience with the car in that country. It appears that before going to America, Mr. Montagu and Lady Crofton made an automobile trip through Algeria.

Taking up the chain of circumstances, Lord Montagu said another coincidence was that Mrs. Montagu had a baby born just before her husband left her and about the same time Lady Montagu gave birth to a child. The incident of Capt. Seymour Fortesque seeing him at the Paris station with a lady, Lord Montagu explained by saying that he was actually there—seeing his daughter off, this daughter being 22 years old, and thus about the same age as Lady Crofton.

Lord Montagu said that he knew Lady Crofton well. She was Miss Margaret Irby, daughter of the late Col. Howard Irby of the Indian army. He described her as being very handsome, and said he was particularly sorry to hear of the trouble.

WOMEN IN WEBSTER GROVES AUTO HELD AS JOY RIDERS

Machine Runs Down Bread Wagon in East St. Louis and Five Are Arrested.

Two women and three men, joy riders, are locked up in the East St. Louis Police Station, and will be held until it is learned how serious are the injuries inflicted on Millard McCormick of 1419 North Jefferson avenue, St. Louis, when the bread wagon driven by him was struck by the car of the joy riders at Second street and St. Clair avenue, East St. Louis, at 4:30 a. m. Thursday.

When the quintette were arrested the women gave their names as Fannie Brown and Mary Doe. They refused to give their addresses. The men gave these names and addresses: Paul Peltier, 4146 North Grand avenue; D. W. Loire, 4145 Washington boulevard; B. S. Adams, 2804 Olive street.

The automobile, which carried Missouri license No. 6672 and Webster Groves license No. 1, was going east on St. Clair avenue when it struck McCormick's bread wagon. One of the front wheels of the wagon was splintered, and McCormick was thrown to the street. The lamps of the car were smashed.

Adams, who was at the wheel, backed the car away from the wagon and speeded away without waiting to see whether McCormick had been killed.

Somebody telephoned to the police station and Sergt. Brennan and Policeman McMullin intercepted the machine on Broadway, near the viaduct, and arrested the occupants.

McCormick's left shoulder blade was broken, and he may have suffered internal injuries. He was treated by Dr. J. H. Fruham of Thirteenth street and St. Clair avenue and sent home.

ADRIATIC RUNS AGROUND IN SAND OFF NEW YORK HARBOR

Liner Frees Itself After Several Hours—Orville Wright and Sister Aboard.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Passengers on the steamer Adriatic of the White Star Line were detained at the harbor mouth for several hours early today while the steamer was clearing herself from the grip of the sands at the entrance to Ambrose Channel, into which she had driven her prow while attempting to make port.

The Adriatic grounded before daylight and it was thought she might have to await the incoming tide, which would not be at flood until after noon, but shortly before 9 o'clock the steamer managed to free herself and proceeded up the harbor to her dock.

The steamer had on board a large number of passengers, among them Orville Wright, the aviator, and his sister, Miss Katherine Wright. No excitement was occasioned by the grounding.

Weak Hearts

"I was terribly afflicted with my heart. At times it seemed to miss every other beat. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy until my trouble was all gone—it has never returned." R. R. PENN, Springville, Iowa.

One person in every four has a weak heart. Some are born weak, some become weak from disease, others by over-exertion. If you have palpitation, fluttering, irregular pulse, short breath, oppressed feeling in chest, smothering or faint spells, you may know your heart is weak. There is nothing better for a weak heart than

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy.

It has brought relief to thousands, it should to you, even in cases of long standing.

The first bottle will benefit; if not, your druggist will return your money.

Causes Debility

Here are Facts Backed Up by a Strong Guarantee.

Catarrh causes debility. In our opinion, most people suffering from general debility have catarrh. Such cases of debility cannot be completely cured by medicine not designed to eradicate catarrh. In every case where our remedy fails to give entire satisfaction we will not charge a cent for the medicine employed during the trial. Now, surely no one should hesitate to believe us or to put our claim to a practical test under such conditions. We will take all the risk; no one else can lose anything by the transaction.

We make these statements and this offer because we know and have time and again proved that Rexall Mucu-Tone rarely fails to do as we claim. It is not a cure-all prescribed to cure every disease that flesh is heir to. It is intended for one purpose, i. e., to cure catarrh by assailing the diseased condition in a reasonable, scientific way, which is to employ agents that have been found to have the tonic and alterative power to correct faulty metabolism (tissue change) and to stimulate and help nature overcome the cause or causes of catarrh. This being done, appetite increases, nutrition improves, weight is gained, comfort of body is attained and life's work taken up with the zest natural to the perfectly healthy individual.

We want you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone. Follow directions and take it regularly and consistently for a reasonable length of time. Then, if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us and the money you paid for the treatment will be returned without any argument whatever.

Rexall Mucu-Tone comes in two sizes, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., S. E. Cor. 9th St. and Washington Av.

KILLED BY MISSTEP ON TRACK

Body of Man Is Found in East Side Yards.

The body of a laborer employed by the Terminal Railroad was found Thursday at 10 a. m. by Foreman T. E. Burbridge of the Illinois Central in the Broadway yards, East St. Louis. The body was taken to the Degen-Doussard morgue.

From a poorly written identification card in the man's pocket, it is believed he was either A. Kimmer or A. Kiver. He was apparently 50 years old. He was killed by stumbling and fracturing his skull on a railroad tie.

SUFFERING ENDED

Druggists Sell the Remedy that Cured Stomach Trouble of 14 Years.

And best of all we guarantee it to cure you or money back. Read this:

"I have been a great sufferer for 14 years. Everything I ate gave me heartburn. I have never been able to get anything that would give me any relief until a friend of mine insisted on my taking Mi-o-na. I took a 50-cent box and I believe I am entirely well." F. M. Bryant, Newman, Ga., June 5th.

Mi-o-na is not a nostrum; it is the prescription of a celebrated physician who is a specialist in stomach diseases. The clever woman calls Mi-o-na the Vanishing Prescription because it changed her from a miserable, nervous dyspeptic into a bright, healthy, happy woman in a few weeks.

These little Mi-o-na tablets are sure-enough wonder workers. They absolutely cure indigestion whether acute or chronic.

They stop belching, gas in stomach, and heaviness, in a few minutes. Distress after eating vanishes as if by magic when one or two little Mi-o-na tablets are swallowed.

WOMAN BALLOONIST, HER PILOT, THE BASKET AND SKETCH SHOWING ITS COMPARTMENTS

GIRL JUMPS IN FRONT OF CAR; KILLS HERSELF

Clasps Hands and Waits as Heavy Interurban Dashes Upon Her.

Special to the Post-Dispatch

JOPLIN, Mo., Nov. 4.—Deliberately stepping into the track, turning her back to an approaching car and awaiting its approach, Miss Helen Mills, 25 years old, was fatally injured on West Fourth street at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and died at 3:10 o'clock at St. Johns' Hospital without regaining consciousness.

Despite the inability of friends or relatives to supply a motive, eyewitnesses of the tragedy are positive in the assertion that it was a case of deliberate suicide. The girl was struck by a main line car of the Joplin & Pittsburg, Railroad Co., westbound. She was thrown clear off the track, but the force of the impact crushed her skull at the base of the brain and caused her death.

Clasped Hands and Waited.

When she was first noticed by passengers on the observation platform of the car, the girl was walking several feet from the outside of the track in the same direction and 200 feet in front of the car. The point where she was killed is near no crossing where the cars stop and is far from the girl's home and her place of business.

GOLF NOT RICH MAN'S GAME, TAFT SAYS.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 4.

IN one of his speeches here President Taft sought to defend golf from the charge that it is a rich man's game. He said:

"The game of golf I am not only fond of myself, but I am serious in thinking that its general spread through the country is a real advance in the matter of hygiene and healthfulness and long life to men between 50 and 70. Now, I speak with some fervor on the game of golf, because during the last presidential election I was not without caution as to the effect of too great enthusiasm shown on my part with respect to the game.

"It was supposed at that time, and it was heralded in the newspapers, as being a game indicating aristocratic leaning and association with wealth, that was supposed to injure one in the standing of the 'plain people,' as Lincoln called them. But I am hopeful now that the virtues of golf as a trainer of character and as a leveler instead of an exalter of people will be so well understood that in any future political campaign golf will figure rather as a reason for electing a candidate who is addicted to it than to defeat him."

FRANK R. TATE WILL HELP MANAGE NEW YORK THEATER

Will Be Associated With George M. Cohan in Amusement Enterprise.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Speculation as to the probable ownership and character of the theater to be built at Forty-third street and Broadway ended today with the announcement that a new corporation, the George M. Cohan Theater Co., had an option on the lease of the new theater.

The incorporators are Sam H. Harris of Cohan & Harris, Frank R. Tate of St. Louis, head of the syndicate that bought the site and will build the playhouse, and Dennis F. O'Brien, attorney for Cohan & Harris.

The theater will be called the George M. Cohan Theater, and will be occupied almost exclusively by musical plays written by that playwright-actor, in which he and his family will appear. It is expected that the new theater will be ready for opening next September.

Vinol

"From Dec. 20, '08, to March 1, '09, I had three bad colds, one on top of the other. I got so weak I could hardly get around. Nothing seemed to help me until I began to take Vinol. The change was magic. Three bottles completely fixed that compound cold and stopped the terrible cough—and what surprises me most, at the same time it cured me of a severe stomach trouble that has bothered me for 20 years. Vinol is certainly a wonderful medicine."

Mr. Toppan is one of Lynn's most prominent and highly respected merchants, whose word is as good as his bond.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the two most world-famed tonics—the medicinal, strengthening, body-building elements of Cod Liver Oil and Tonic Iron.

MISS JULIA HOERNER SAILS 240 MILES IN NIGHT FLIGHT

Daring Woman Aeronaut With Captain John Berry Drops Message to the Post-Dispatch From Lexington Depot, Tenn.

Swept about in shifting air currents, Miss Julia Hoerner and Capt. John Berry, in the balloon Melba III, were lazily floating over the southwestern corner of Tennessee according to the last message received from them by the Post-Dispatch.

From 6:10 a. m. to 10.30 a. m. they had traveled only 30 miles, their distance from St. Louis after 18 hours' sailing being 240 miles.

The last message received from them was dated at Lexington Depot, Tenn. It read:

"The balloon Melba III passed over this place today, a thousand feet high and traveling southwest. Bum air currents.

"BERRY AND HOERNER."

This was written on a message card furnished by the Post-Dispatch.

An earlier message said that the balloon had passed Hollow Rock, Tenn., at 6:10 a. m.

Miss Hoerner, a St. Louisan, is the first woman to make a flight in competition for the Lahm cup. Capt. Berry, her pilot, is the dean of St. Louis aeronauts and winner of the Indianapolis cup race. The balloon has a capacity of 78,000 cubic feet.

They carry provisions enough to last four days, and when they sailed from the Laclede Gaslight Co. plant at Second and Rutger street Wednesday afternoon they promised their friends that they would remain in the air until all of their ballast was exhausted.

Her First Long Trip.

This is Miss Hoerner's first long flight. She has made three other ascensions but heretofore she has never remained in the air more than three hours.

On this flight she believes that she will be in the air at least fifty hours. In order to win the Lahm Cup she will have to surpass the record of 731¼ miles, made by A. Holland Forbes and Max C. Fleischmann in a flight from St. Louis Oct. 13.

The basket is so heavily laden with supplies and equipment that it will be impossible for either Miss Hoerner or Capt. Berry to lie down. Sitting on suitcases or boxes one will sleep while the other navigates the air.

In order to assure privacy for the aeronauts the balloon is fitted with a heavy oiled curtain which is fastened to load-ring and which, when let down, will divide the basket into two compartments. It can be dropped at any time by pulling a light cord which dangles above the basket.

Difference in Equipment.

There was a marked difference in the equipment of the two compartments. On Miss Hoerner's side were many articles which added a feminine touch to the furnishings. Here were boxes of candy and baskets laden with fruits and flowers. In one box was a complete toilet outfit, including combs, brushes, powder-puffs, a mirror and two sofa-pillows.

On Berry's side, among other articles were four bottles of beer, a bottle of whiskey, a bottle of brandy and a revolver.

The provisions consist mainly of chicken and ham sandwiches, prepared soups, coffee, pickles and preserves.

POLICE BRUTALITY.

The arrest of Patrolman James O'Hearn, charged with inflicting fatal injuries on Ralph Collins by clubbing and kicking him, will doubtless be followed by a thorough inquiry into the facts of the case. The evidence so far gathered points to the necessity of a trial in the Criminal Court as well as a police investigation.

The question of justification of the patrolman for clubbing Collins is highly important. Its importance is emphasized by the fact that another victim of the policeman's club lies in the Centenary Hospital suffering from a blood clot on the brain. No criminal charge is made against either of these men. The patrolman who clubbed William Dugger has never been identified. O'Hearn charged Collins with peace disturbance and resisting an officer, but there is no corroborative evidence of disorderly conduct on the part of anyone except the patrolman.

Our sympathies are with the policemen in their dealing with rowdies and criminals, but the right of innocent persons of all walks of life against arbitrary orders and brutal treatment on the part of policemen must be respected. So many complaints of unwarranted police interference and unnecessary police brutality in making arrests or carrying out general instructions are made, that effective action by the authorities is called for. Nothing could be more subversive of law and order than the use of the police power and the police club and gun as weapons of offense and of personal resentment. When the policeman maims or kills without justification he should be subjected to the full penalty of the law. The offense of aggression is worse in him, by reason of his office, than in the ordinary citizen.

There should be no jealousy on account of credit for the success of the New Orleans waterway expedition. The president and secretary of both the Waterway Association and the Business Men's League are St. Louis men. W. K. Kavanaugh and Flewellyn Saunders did the work for the Waterway Association and James E. Smith and Flewellyn Saunders did the work for the Business Men's League. They are three of a daisy kind, to whom the pulling off of successes are commonplace occurrences. The bouquets come to St. Louis.

CHAMPION LONGENECKER.

What is a martyr to the cause of free speech compared to the stern champion of an apartment house tenantry! Samuel Gompers may rot in jail and be forgotten, but the name of Rolla R. Longenecker will be blazoned high in the halls of fame.

Mr. Longenecker is after the landlords and the apartment house rules and running strong. He has found a people boastful of their freedom hedged about by codes and made the slaves of a tyrant system. He finds that cats have rights denied to tenants and dogs are preferred occupants. Parrots riot where babies are tabooed, and canary birds and mechanical pianos are welcomed where the prattle of innocent children is stifled under regulations printed in black type in the lease.

These things Mr. Longenecker challenged long ago. He organized. He made a domesday book. He aroused the countryside to the tenth floor. He ratified a new magna charta. He threw tea overboard. He denounced taxation without representation. He fought a revolution. He adopted a constitution and now he is about to carry the war into Africa. Landlordism delenda est, and then some. In his new bill of rights rent can't be collected in advance; it's illegal. Steam heat can't be shut off on any arbitrary date like May 1; it ruins health. Hall lights must burn after 10 o'clock; it's dark till daylight. Babies are the product of natural conditions and the Tenants' Protective Association maintains, with reason, that schedules must not be interfered with.

Praters about the sacredness of liberty must look up to take account of the limits to which heartlessness of slave owners may drive the enslaved. Millions of Helots will join Longenecker and swell the thousands who have joined him already. Reaction has set in. Plutocracy fed fat on the profits of meekness has reared the monster to destroy its power. It is irony of a brand regarded frequently in history. Sentiment will all be with Longenecker. To a man we will hope he fixes it so we won't have to pay our rent in advance. It is a monthly embarrassment.

The City Hospital Alumni Association petitions the Municipal Assembly to purchase five blocks surrounding the hospital for park purposes. The plan is to create a zone of silence around the institution and to provide recreation grounds for the patients. It is a humane and practical idea which ought to be put into effect.

Wellston women have found 20 State laws that are habitually violated in that enterprising suburb, and offer it as an argument against self-government. Obviously a community that can't violate more laws than that is not capable.

REDUCE THE PRICE OF GAS.

The directors of the Laclede Gas Light Co. say they are considering how to please the St. Louis public. We are glad to be able to enlighten them on this point. Reduce the price of gas. It ought not to take long consideration to discover that this is feasible and wise.

New York pays only 80 cents—a price fixed by the Legislature, and, after a thorough investigation, approved by the courts.

Indianapolis pays 60 cents, a price fixed by law, but realized through competition.

In Kansas City the gas company agreed to reduce the price of artificial gas from $1 to 75 cents in exchange for the privilege of selling natural gas at 25 cents.

In Cincinnati the price of artificial gas is 75 cents and of natural gas 30 cents. Cleveland has the same prices.

Coal is cheaper in St. Louis than in any other large city. It cannot be possible that with the increase of consumption and the improvement of machinery it costs as much per thousand to produce and distribute gas here now as it did when the present prices were made. The profit must be much larger.

The wisest possible policy on the part of public utility companies is to gain public good will and confidence. The shortest road to good will and confidence is to reduce rates.

It is wiser to reduce rates voluntarily than to be compelled by commissions or legislatures.

A voluntary reduction in the price of gas in this city would be a shining example of fairness. It would be a proof of the good spirit and just intentions of the corporation's new owners.

Reduce the Price of Gas.

As Gilbert remarked, a policeman's lot is not a happy one but he shouldn't resent it so vigorously.

BOSTON'S CHARTER.

At Tuesday's election Boston decided to eliminate parties from municipal politics. The next candidates for Mayor will be nominated on the petition of 5000 voters, and the man chosen may be "recalled" at the end of two years. The new City Council will be composed of nine members, elected at large, three each year. Responsibility is centered in the Mayor and Council.

This plan, with others, was submitted to the voters at the end of a long period spent in study and exhaustive investigation. It is an adaptation of the commission plan, and it is the first test of the plan in a large city. Whether the happy experiences of the smaller cities will be duplicated cannot be foretold, but it is singular that the objections to the simpler form are confined to the expression of misgivings and the wagging of sage heads.

The doubt seems to grow from inability to understand why the new scheme works so well. It is not easy. As good an explanation as any comes from Haverhill, Mass., which has had surprising results since it abandoned the old form of government. City Solicitor Nichols said:

> You will ask how did this happen? Did you have a crowd of grafters who were robbing you? I have never seen anything that I could actually put my finger on in the way of stealing. It was not stolen. It just went as any man's money will leak out of his business and he will assign, if he does not attend to his business or if he has no sort of business management. The change has been brought about by personal supervision.

That doesn't seem to be a very satisfactory explanation. In no city could a group of officials be found to confess that they had not been attending to business, and yet that seems to be the real trouble—"no sort of business management"—a lack of personal responsibility.

Philadelphia greets San Francisco, but it is doubtful if either can teach the other anything in the sturdy art of going the limit.

JUDGE GRIMM'S REMEDY.

Particular cases now in court have no connection with an expression of approval of the action of the Grand Jury in indicting for manslaughter and of Judge Grimm in recommending that method of proceeding against chauffeurs who run over people. It is the proper course to pursue. Reckless driving of motor cars has not been stayed by commonplace police court fines. Habitual offenders have laughed at the law which aims to regulate speed. Penalties have been too light. No element of personal disgrace or serious loss was involved.

The first purpose of any statute carrying a penalty is deterrent. No one wants offenders punished for the sake of punishment. Everyone wants the streets made as safe as possible. Obviously high speed and safety are incompatible. High speed is not only forbidden, but it is the best evidence of reckless driving. Reckless driving becomes a form of criminal carelessness which converts homicide into manslaughter. Every man who violates the speed law is a potential killer and death as the result of recklessness invites and deserves a severe penalty. One conviction for manslaughter will do more to stop the havoc than all the fines the courts can impose in 10 years.

Tom L. Johnson now knows just how Aristides felt when that shell game was over.

CREATING A SITUATION.

Suffragettes have no reason to complain of President Taft's attitude toward their cause.

"I am not a rabid suffragist," he said in his Columbus speech. "The truth is I am not in favor of suffrage for women until I can be convinced that all the women desire it, and when they desire it I am in favor of giving it to them."

Almost at the same hour M. Briand, Prime Minister of France, expressed the same sentiments to a delegation of French suffragettes. He told them the Government could not act, and that the ladies themselves would have to "create a situation" which would compel it to act.

This was at once a broad hint and a statesmanlike suggestion. No band of reformers ever induced a government to act until they "created a situation." The anti-slavery agitators did this thing after forty years of hard work. A situation was created in England in 1832 which left the Government with the alternatives of compliance and revolution. And if appearances go for anything the radicals of Great Britain are preparing a situation today which will issue in surprising results. So of the suffragettes. The American President and the French premier are ready to respond to a "situation," which means pressure. It is for the ladies themselves to take the decisive step, as M. Briand courteously told them.

We are permitted to hope, however, that in this country the ladies will not create a situation by adopting English methods. There are better ways to reach the situation. Americans will never take kindly to feminine rowdyism.

Forty cases of hookworm have been found in Washington, but not among Government employes. They don't need it.

Mr. Hearst has explained that he did just what he set out to do, but he forgot to add that it was done in a different way.

Perhaps in going into society ex-Boss Howe is cherishing an ambition to reform the "silk stockings."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Checkrein Is Torture.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A communication from E. G. Stephens protesting against the cruelty of using check reins on horses is particularly praiseworthy and will, I trust, cause many thoughtless owners to dispense with this instrument of torture. In this connection a word on that barbarous custom of docking horses' tails. This should be the subject of an ordinance imposing a heavy fine on the owner of an animal so mutilated.

G. H. MOLL.

Drinking Fountains Wanted.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Million Club should look around and count the number of public drinking fountains for thirsty men and women on the streets. If there is one 'tis not enough. Wake up, and give the thirsty a substitute for beer that is free, then the thirsty ones will not be compelled to go to a saloon. Don't blame the saloon keeper; he pays a license to sell beer; he has a right to give you a scornful look when you ask him for a glass of water. Colorado Springs has drinking fountains on its streets, not all horse troughs, and a few other conveniences for the public that I fail to see here. Let us have free drinking water and every water drinker armed with a collapsible cup.

WILLIAM S. REID.

Taft's New Orleans Speech.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

After reading the account in Sunday's Post-Dispatch of President Taft's waterways speech in New Orleans, I would like to ask just where St. Louis "gets off?" Improve the Ohio River first, says the President, but, he indulgently adds, we needn't delay the Mississippi work until the Ohio is finished. Oh, no. But of course the Mississippi improvement in that case would begin below Cairo, and while Pittsburg and Cincinnati were getting their route to the gulf, the original Lakes-to-the-Gulf proposition would be lost sight of. That this would be a fine thing for Cincinnati, the President's home town, and even more so for Pittsburg, nobody doubts. But after the labor and expense of years have been borne by the St. Louis and Chicago waterway workers, it seems a trifle abrupt for the President to hand over the fruits of their efforts to cities which have done little or nothing in this line.

The Duncan Dance.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Some time ago I conducted a discussion on the nude in art, in this column, protesting against the custom of allowing women to pose unclad before mixed classes. Since then I have read a very informing article on nakedness and morals, in the American Journal of Psychology, which changed my view to the extent that I am now willing to admit that we have, perhaps, carried our ideas of the effect of mere nakedness to the extreme, and that it would be better for the young to be educated in a full knowledge of the appearance of the human body, in order that their minds shall not be consumed by a morbid curiosity. I saw the Duncan dance, and was not in the least shocked by it, for the simple reason that it was totally void of suggestiveness. I am convinced that it could bring no evil thoughts to the minds of anyone who saw it. And I am further convinced that no one who did not see it is competent to criticise it.

Poor Accommodation All the Time.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

If H. L. J. B. and others who so persistently tell "the women" to regulate their affairs so as to use the street cars only during specified hours would inform themselves of the real facts they would find the same inadequate "accommodations" as exist in the so-called business hours, as most cars are "turned in" after making the run morning and evening. Cars are crowded before reaching Taylor avenue after 9 o'clock and packed, if it is bargain day, and return cars overloaded all hours after 10 a. m.

As very few cars are run during the day, we have the long waits as well as crowded cars. Another injustice which I have never seen mentioned is children occupying seats for which half fare, or none, is paid, while full-fare passengers stand; often good-sized boys crowd ahead of ladies and rush to seats, letting the ladies stand, and the boys who are allowed to be so rude keep their seats when grown to man's estate.

After many experiences similar to that of last evening (Friday), when I waited at a West End corner from 6:35 to 6:55, drug store time, for an eastbound car that would deign to stop for passengers, as the many that rushed by were being "turned in," I would suggest the voters make a move in the right direction and require enough cars to accommodate the people at all hours of the day. Experience proves the rush hours to be the most comfortable time, as cars run frequently and children are not riding for pleasure.

The slang phrase, "Excuse me for living," seems appropriate when responding to some benighted man.

A WOMAN.

Football Fatalities.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

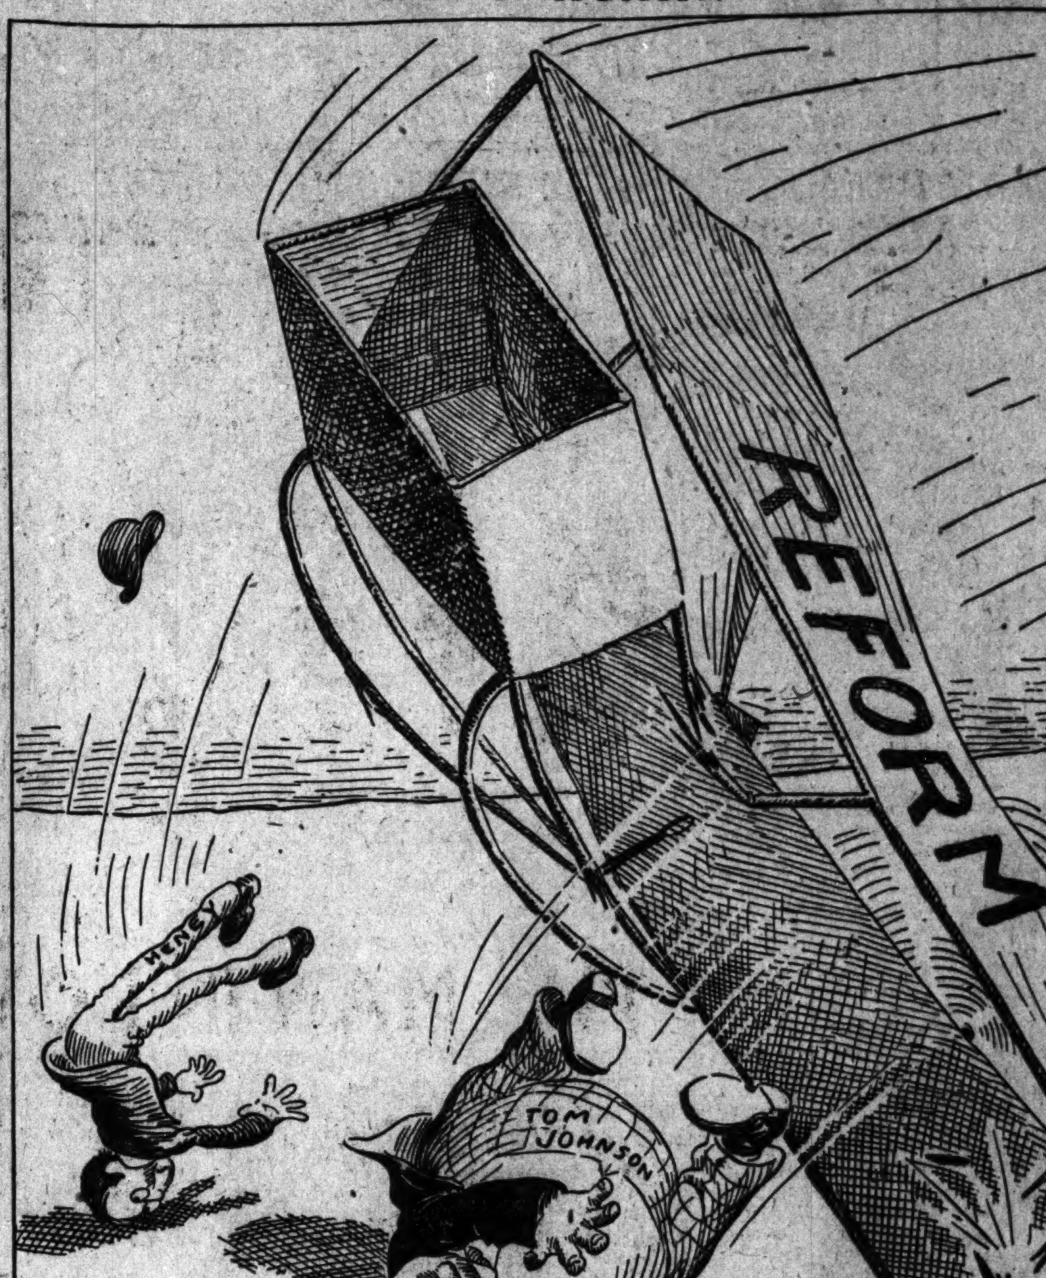
We decry the Spaniards for bullfighting, have laws against dog and cock fighting, prizefighting and dueling, yet we not only permit, but encourage our sons to brutally kill one another on the football field. Why? Because a few schemers obtain thousands of dollars for gate receipts, enormous profits on certain lines of sporting goods, and much money for transportation of people to and from the scenes of murder. In bull, dog and cock fights, dumb brutes are the sufferers. In prizefighting at the utmost but a few humans, and they possessing but few attributes of humanity. Dueling has at least the merit of being done in defense of honor or in redress of great wrong.

Football, in motive, is idiocy pure and simple. In consequence, criminal to the degree of murder.

There are 500 per cent more people killed in football in proportion to time employed and number engaged, than in any two useful occupations of the human kind. Let the football coaches who now draw fat pay go to the work for which they are fitted—handling pick and shovel at $1.75 per day.

FRANK MAGINN.

DOWN AGAIN.



END A CORRUPT TAMMANY.

From today's New York World.

Tammany was beaten by Democrats, and lost the city government to Democrats.

John P. Mitchell, elected president of the Board of Aldermen, is a Democrat. Geo. McAneny, elected president of the borough of Manhattan, is a Democrat. Alfred E. Steers, elected president of the borough of Brooklyn, is a Democrat. Lawrence J. Gresser, elected president of the borough of Queens, is a Democrat. Cyrus C. Miller, elected president of the borough of the Bronx, is a Democrat.

Judge Gaynor is a Democrat, who has always fought corruptionists within his own party. Twelve of the 16 votes of the new Board of Estimate will be cast by Democrats. Not one of the six Democrats who will cast these votes is a member of Tammany Hall, and only one of them had a Tammany indorsement. Fusion smashed Tammany by appealing to the Independent Democratic vote.

New York is still a Democratic city, but the old Tammany is done for—the Tammany of Tweed and Kelly and Croker and Murphy. New York has outgrown it, and will no longer tolerate it. The political conditions under which Tammany maintained despotic power no longer exist. The boss may control the machine and name the candidates, but he cannot deliver the vote.

Tammany is not fit to govern, and will never be fit to govern until it has reorganized, until a corrupt system has been destroyed and until principles have been substituted for contracts and cash.

HE'LL GET HIS PAPER.

From the Tonkawa (Ok.) News.

Last Saturday Joe Marcus, a Tonkawa Indian, subscribed for the News. The following Tuesday he came to the office with his war paint on and wanted to know why he was not getting his paper. We have been visited by indignant subscribers before, but not so soon after becoming one. Joe was pacified by the assurance that the paper was issued once a week. He departed, with the very reassuring remark: "You no send paper me maybe so take scalp." There is one thing sure: There might be some of our readers who will fail to get their paper, but Joe Marcus will not be among the number.

ON THE SPOT.

From the Atlanta Constitution.

"Yes," said the Billville story teller, "the cyclone carried his house into the next county and set it down there as comfortable as you please, and as he stepped out of the door to survey the country, the man who owned the land notified him of suit for trespass and the tax collector handed him a bill for taxes."

NOW, WE UNDERSTAND.

From the Milwaukee Sentinel.

Three picture post cards posted five years ago were delivered at Pett, a Sussex village, near Hastings, England, a few days ago. One post card bore the date Dec. 23, 1904, and the other two the date of Dec. 5, 1904. They were dispatched from Hastings, which is only three miles away.

NO MISUNDERSTANDING.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Now, Mr. Blank," said a temperance advocate to a candidate for municipal honors, "I want to ask you a question. Do you ever take alcoholic drinks?"

"Before I answer the question," responded the wary candidate, "I want to know whether it is put as an inquiry or as an invitation!"

JUST A MINUTE.

JESS BILL AN' ME.

B'GOSH, we didn't do it right! I should a-taken Taft to Dixie on a shanty boat, an' floated like a raft day after day upon the way, to see what is to see, an' doin' as we both durn pleased—jess Bill an' me.

Jess Bill an' me in our old clothes, with all the time there is. Me follerin' my own sweet will, an' Bill a-suitin' his. A-huntin' coons, a-whistlin' tunes, an' not a thing to be a-worryin' about on earth—jess Bill an' me.

The banquets an' the crowds fergot, the music an' the dance, an' Bill a-loungin' 'roun' with one old gallus on his pants. A fishin' pole fer growin' soul, an' now an' then a tree with a possum in it on the bank—jess Bill an' me.

Bill didn't see the river right the way we took him down. He didn't get no atmosphere the kind he should a-foun'. Too big a crowd, an' too much loud horn-tootin' to agree with Bill the same as if us two had gone—jess Bill and me.

Jess Bill an' me all by ourselves, an' politics cut out. A-raidin' punkin patches here an' there along the route. Bill on the bank, an' me to yank the punkins fast as he could shoot 'em on into the boat—jess Bill an' me.

A-floatin' on day after day, no speeches or applause, but slowly soakin' into Bill the justice of our cause. A handy hen roost now an' then, an' out again to sea, Bill pushin' for'ard an' me aft—jess Bill an' me.

Tied up along some islan' shore, the river clear an' ca'm, an' Bill back in the galley-way a-fricasseein' ham. The settin' sun, an' supper done, the biscuits an' the tea, an' the hoot-owl hootin' in the woods—jess Bill and me.

That would a-been the time to plug fer what we want to swing; jess casual, you know, an' not demandin' anything. Jess by the way remarkin', "Say, now Bill, why couldn't we have fourteen feet of water here?"—jess Bill an' me.

Bill never cut no bee-tree with the bees aroun' his head, an' felt the glory of the woods all golden-like an' red. He never spread some good cornbread with honey, comb an' bee the way he will when we go down—jess Bill an' me.

No, Bill ain't seen this river right; that's why he is so cold. He didn't see it in the way that helps it get a-hold of anyone. We simply run him through with a whoopee, an' the river never got a chance—jess Bill an' me.

The river never laid its soul to Bill's soul as it should. Their two hearts didn't beat as one enough fer any good. They didn't meet except to greet each other two or three occasions with a crowd aroun'—jess Bill an' me.

But if he ever comes again, you bet there'll be a row. The other folks 'as had their way—it's my exper'ment now. Jess me an' Bill is gona kill three months with languidly houseboatin' down towards the Gulf—jess Bill an' me.

THE PARTISANS.

Boss: Boy, what was that fight out in the front office just now?
Boy: Two book agents, sir.
Boss: What were they fighting about?
Boy: They both claimed to have seen you first, sir.
Boss: Have they gone?
Boy: No, sir; they are resting.
Boss: Well, tell the agent for the Peary book that I wouldn't take it if he gave it to me and paid me a dollar a month for life.

JEWS IN AMERICA

No. 5. Important Part Taken by the Race in the Civil War.

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By REV. MADISON C. PETERS.

IN the Civil War the part the Jew took is so conspicuous that it is difficult to pick out the most prominent men in the conflict.

Mayer Asch, Nathan D. Menken and Louis H. Mayer served on the staff of Gen. Pope, Mayer serving also with Gens. Rosencrans and Grant. Dr. Morris J. Asch served on the staff of Gen. Sheridan. Maj. Lully, who, during the Hungarian revolution, served on Kossuth's staff, rendered valuable service under the direction of the Secretary of War. Capt. Dessauer, killed at Chancellorsville, and Newman Borchard served on the staff of Gen. Howard. Max Cornheim and M. Szegley served on the staff of Gen. Sigel.

Jewish staff officers in the Confederate army and navy are equally conspicuous, showing the spirit of Hebrew loyalty to conviction. Hon. Simon Wolf tells us that North Carolina sent six Cohen brothers, South Carolina five Moses brothers, Georgia Raphael Moses and his three sons, while yet another Moses brother came from Alabama; Arkansas furnished three Cohen brothers, Virginia sent out three Levy brothers, Louisiana's muster rolls also contain three brothers of the same name, while still another trio of Goldsmiths went forth from the South, two from Georgia and one from South Carolina. Mississippi provided five Jonas brothers, Edward fighting in the Fiftieth Illinois against his four Confederate brothers, one of whom was Benjamin F. Jonas, former United States Senator from Louisiana.

On the Union side 14 Jewish families of New York sent 53 men to both armies; and, according to Mr. Wolf, 7884 Jewish soldiers served in the Union and Confederate armies during the Civil War, although there were only 150,000 Jews in the country at that time.

Among the Hebrew officers in the Union army who achieved high distinction I might mention Frederick Kneffler, who attained the highest rank reached by any Hebrew during the Civil War. He enlisted as a private in the Seventy-ninth Indiana Volunteer Infantry and fought his way up to the colonelcy of his regiment, soon rising to the rank of brigadier-general and then brevet major-general for meritorious services at the battle of Chickamauga. He fought gallantly in all the principal battles of the Army of the Cumberland, under Gens. Rosencrans, Thomas and Grant, and took part in all the conflicts of Sherman's ruthless march to the sea.

Edward A. Solomon, colonel of the Eighty-second Illinois Volunteer Infantry, fought at Chattanooga, Lookout Mountain, Missionary Ridge, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg and throughout all the campaigns in the Southwest, and was brevetted brigadier-general. He was for four years Governor of Washington Territory by the appointment of President Grant.

Philip J. Joachimsen helped to organize the Fifty-ninth New York Volunteer Regiment, and went to the front with it as Colonel. A fall from his horse disqualified him for military duty. He rendered great service while stationed at Fortress Monroe as United States Paymaster, and for his assistance to Gen. B. F. Butler at New Orleans, Gov. Fenton of New York, in acknowledgment of his eminent services, appointed him brevet Brigadier-General.

Col. Marcus M. Spiegel of the One Hundred and Twentieth Ohio Infantry, who died before he could receive the promotion to a Brigadier-Generalship, for which his superior officers recommended him for bravery at Vicksburg and Shaggy Point; Max Einstein, Colonel of the Twenty-seventh Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers; Colonel Max Freedman of the Fifth Pennsylvania Cavalry; Lieutenant-Colonel Israel Moses of Sickles' Brigade; Isaac Moses, Adjutant-General of the Third Corps of the Army of the Potomac; Col. H. A. Seligson of Vermont; Lieutenant-Colonel Leopold Newman, to whose dying bed President Lincoln brought his commission promoting him to the rank of Brigadier-General; Col. Ansel Hamburg of the Twelfth Pennsylvania Infantry; Elias Leon Hyneman of the Fifth Pennsylvania Cavalry; Capt. Joseph B. Greenhut of Illinois; Lieut. Max Sachs, who was killed at Bowling Green, transferred from New Mexico to Pennsylvania; David Manheim, Colonel First Nevada Cavalry; Herman Bendell, surgeon Eighty-sixth New York Infantry, brevetted Lieutenant-Colonel for meritorious and honorable conduct; Adjutant Abraham Cohn of New Hampshire; Col. A. Goldman of Maine; Sergeant-Major Karpelles of Massachusetts; Sergeant-Major Alexander M. Appel of Iowa, and David A. Brauski of Ohio are a few of the Jews who distinguished themselves upon the battlefields of the war for the Union.

Major-General O. O. Howard, after speaking of one of his Jewish staff officers as being "of the bravest and best," and of another killed at Chancellorsville as being "a true friend and a brave officer," and highly praising two Jewish Brigadier-Generals, said: "Intrinsically there are no more patriotic men to be found in the country than those of Hebrew descent and who served with me in parallel command or directly under my instructions."

What a Singer Should Eat and Drink

By Enrico Caruso, in the Strand.

"WITH regard to a 'singing' diet," says Caruso in his "Reminiscences," "I incline toward the simpler and more nourishing kinds of food, though my tastes are broad in the matter. Still, on the nights when I sing, except, perhaps, for a sandwich and a glass of my native Chianti, for which I have always retained a fondness, I take nothing until after the performance, when I have a modest supper of anything which I happen to fancy and which I have proved has no ill effects on me. But really experience has taught me that it is by no means easy to lay down any hard and fast rule with regard to the commissariat department, as this must always be to a great extent a matter of personal taste. Besides, common sense should soon teach the singer what particular diet is suitable to his own individual constitution, and then, obviously, he has only to adhere to that regime.

"As far as smoking is concerned, although in moderation I find that the practice is not injurious to me, yet all young singers I would warn against it. Still, many great singers have been most inveterate smokers. Mario, for instance, was an inordinate smoker, and, it did him no harm, for he smoked from twenty-five to thirty ordinary-sized cigars a day, and in Italy, where real Havana cigars are rarely obtainable, he frequently smoked as many as a hundred Cavours a day."

THE MAN IN LOWER TEN

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART
Author of "The Circular Staircase"
(Copyright, 1909, Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Lawrence (Lollie) Blakely of Blakely & McKnight tells the story. He goes to Pittsburg to take the deposition of Millionaire John Gilmore, whose name has been forged to four notes by Bronson. Gilmore is ill and cannot go to Washington for the trial. Blakely is interested in Gilmore's granddaughter, Allison West, whose father was a "rascal-lion" and a friend of the forger Bronson. McKnight is told someone was in a vacant house adjoining his home, who watched his disposition of the forged notes, and he changed them from his coat to his bag. During the night his coat is stolen from his berth. On the return trip he buys lower 10 in the Pullman and lower 11 for a woman whom he does not know, but who speaks to him while he is at the Pullman window. He finds lower 10 is already occupied and is changed to lower 9. Being nervous he goes out to the vestibule clad only in his pajamas and bathrobe. He sees a woman, with loose hair. She flees from him with an extraordinary expression of horror on her face. He finds fragments of a telegram "—lower ten; car seve—." Seven is the number of his car. By mistake he sleeps in berth No. 7, and in the morning finds that his bag and clothes are missing from No. 9, while the clothes left by some man in No. 7 do not fit him. In the midst of his excitement over this discovery he meets in the aisle a young woman in blue with an unforgettable face, whom he thinks he has seen elsewhere. The porter tries to arouse the man in lower 10, but finds that he is dead, stabbed through the heart. A card with the name, Simon Harrington, is found on him.

CHAPTER V.

The Woman in the Next Car.

WITH the departure of the conductor and the doctor, the group around lower ten broke up to reform in smaller knots through the car. The porter remained on guard. With something of relief I sank into a seat. I wanted to think, to try to remember the details of the previous night. But my inquisitive acquaintance had other intentions. He came up and sat down beside me. Like the conductor, he had taken notes of the dead man's belongings, his name, address, clothing and the general circumstances of the crime. Now with his little notebook open before him, he prepared to enjoy the minor sensation of the robbery.

"And now for the second victim," he began cheerfully. "What is your name and address, please?"

I eyed him with suspicion.

"I have lost everything but my name and address," I parried. "What do you want them for? Publication?"

"Oh, no; dear no!" he said, shocked at my misapprehension. "Merely for my own enlightenment. I like to gather data of this kind and draw my own conclusions. Most interesting and engrossing. Once or twice I have forestalled the results of police investigation—but entirely for my own amusement."

I nodded tolerantly. Most of us have hobbies; I knew a man once who carried his handkerchief up his sleeve and had a mania for old colored prints cut out of Godey's Lady's Book.

To use that inductive method originated by Poe and followed since with such success by Conan Doyle. Have you ever read Gaboriau? Ah, you have missed a treat, indeed. And now, to get down to business, what is the name of our escaped thief and probable murderer?"

"How on earth do I know?" I demanded impatiently. "He didn't write it in blood anywhere, did he?"

The little man looked hurt and disappointed.

"Do you mean to say," he asked, "that the pockets of those clothes are entirely empty?"

Upper left-hand waistcoat, two lead pencils and a fountain pen; lower right waist-coat, matchbox and a small stampbook; right-hand pocket coat, pair of gray suede gloves, new, size seven and a half; left-hand pocket, gunmetal cigarette case studded with pearls, half full of Egyptian cigarettes. The trousers pockets contained a gold penknife, a small amount of money in bills and change, and a handkerchief with the initial "S" on it.

Further search through the coat discovered a cardcase with cards bearing the name Henry Pinckney Sullivan, and a leather flask with gold mountings, filled with what seemed to be very fair whisky, and monogrammed H. P. S.

I put the articles from the pockets back again and got up.

"I wonder if there is a diner on?" I said. "I need something sustaining after all this."

I was conscious then of someone at my elbow. I turned to see the young woman whose face was so vaguely familiar. In the very act of speaking she drew back suddenly and colored.

"Oh—I beg your pardon," she said hurriedly. "I—thought you were—someone else." She was looking in a puzzled fashion at my coat. I felt all the cringing guilt of a man who has accidentally picked up the wrong umbrella: my borrowed collar sat tight on my neck.

"I'm sorry," I said idiotically. "I'm sorry, but—I'm not." I have learned since that she has bright brown hair, with a loose wave in it that drops over her ears, and dark blue eyes with black lashes and—but what does it matter? One enjoys a picture as a whole: not as the sum of its parts.

She saw the flask then, and her errand came back to her. "One of the ladies at the end of the car has fainted," she explained. "I thought perhaps a stimulant"—

I picked up the flask at once and followed my guide down the aisle. Two or three women were working over the woman who had fainted. They had opened her collar and taken out her hairpins, whatever good that might do. The stout woman was vigorously rubbing her wrists, with the idea, no doubt, of working up her pulse! The unconscious woman was the one for whom I had secured lower eleven at the station.

I poured a little liquor in a bungling fashion between her lips as she leaned back, with closed eyes. She choked, coughed, and rallied somewhat.

"Poor thing," said the stout lady. "As she lies back that way I could almost think it was my mother; she used to faint so much."

"It would make anybody faint," chimed in another. "Murder and robbery in one night and on one car. I'm thankful I always wear my rings in a bag around my neck—even if they do get under me and keep me awake."

The girl in blue was looking at us with wide, startled eyes. I saw her pale a little, saw the quick, apprehensive glance by which she threw at her traveling companion, the small woman I had noticed before. There was an exchange—almost a clash—of glances. The small woman frowned. That was all. I turned my attention again to my patient.

She had revived somewhat, and now she asked to have the window opened. The train had stopped again and the car was oppressively hot. People around were looking at their watches and grumbling over the delay. The doctor bustled in with a remark about its being his busy day. The amateur detective and the porter together mounted guard over lower ten. Outside the heat rose in shimmering waves from the tracks; the very wood of the car was hot to touch. A Camberwell Beauty darted through the open door and made its way, in erratic plunges, great wings waving, down the sunny aisle. All around lay the peace of harvested fields, the quiet of the country.

CHAPTER VI.

The Girl in Blue.

I WAS growing more and more irritable. The thought of what the loss of the notes meant was fast crowding the murder to the back of my mind. The forced inaction was intolerable.

The porter had reported no bag answering the description of mine on the train, but I was disposed to make my own investigation.

The girl went out to the platform. When she saw me she moved aside, and I stepped out beside her. Behind us the track curved sharply; the early sunshine threw the train, in long black shadow, over the hot earth. Forward somewhere they were hammering. The girl said nothing, but her profile was strained and anxious.

"I—if you have lost anything," I began, "I wish you would let me try to help. Not that my own success is anything to boast of."

She hardly glanced at me. It was not flattering.

"I have not been robbed. If that is what you mean," she replied quietly. "I am—perplexed. That is all."

"We may be here for an hour," I said, "and there is no buffet car on. If I remember my youth, that bell means ham and eggs and country butter and coffee. If you care to run the risk"—

"I am not hungry," she said, "but perhaps a cup of coffee—dear me, I believe I am hungry," she finished. "Only"— She glanced back of her.

"I can bring your companion," I suggested, without enthusiasm. But the young woman shook her head.

"She is not hungry," she objected, "and she is very—well, I know she wouldn't come. Do you suppose we could make it if we run?"

"I haven't any idea," I said cheerfully. "Any old train would be better than this one, if it does leave us behind."

"If you want to smoke, you may," she said. "I have a big cousin who smoked all the time. He says I am 'kippered.'"

I drew out the gunmetal cigarette case and opened it. But this most commonplace action had an extraordinary result: the girl beside me stopped, which she threw at it with fascinated eyes.

"Is—where did you get that?" she demanded, with a catch in her voice; her gaze still fixed on the cigarette case.

"Then you haven't heard the rest of the tragedy?" I asked, holding out the case. "It's frightfully bad luck for me, but it makes a good story. You see"—

At that moment the conductor and porter ceased their colloquy. The conductor came directly toward me, tugging as he came at his bristling gray mustache.

"I would like to talk to you in the car," he said to me, with a curious glance at the young lady.

As we entered the car, she stood aside, but I felt rather than saw that she followed us. I was surprised to see a half dozen men gathered around the berth in which I had wakened, number seven. It had not yet been made up.

Nobody spoke, and I fell silent, too. For one of the pillows had been turned over, and the under side of the white case was streaked with brownish stains. I think it was a perceptible time before I realized that the stains were blood, and that the faces around were filled with suspicion and distrust.

"Why, it—that looks like blood," I said vacuously. There was an incessant pounding in my ears, and the conductor's voice came from far off.

"It is blood," he asserted grimly.

I looked around with a dizzy attempt at nonchalance. "Even if it is," I remonstrated, "surely you don't suppose for a moment that I know anything about it!"

The amateur detective elbowed his way in. He had a scrap of transparent paper in his hand, and a pencil.

"I would like permission to trace the stains," he began eagerly. "Also"—to me—"if you will kindly jab your finger—with a pin—needle—anything."

"If you don't keep out of this," the conductor said savagely, "I will do some jabbing myself. As for you, sir"—he turned to me. I was absolutely innocent, but I knew that I presented a typical picture of guilt: I was covered with cold sweat, and the pounding in my ears kept up dizzily. "As for you, sir"—

The irrepressible amateur detective made a quick pounce at the pillow and pushed back the cover. Before our incredulous eyes he drew out a narrow steel dirk which had been buried to the small cross that served as a head.

There was a chorus of voices around, a quick surging forward of the crowd. So that was what had scratched my hand! I buried the wound in my coat pocket.

"Well," I said, trying to speak naturally, "doesn't that prove what I have been telling you? The man who committed the murder belonged to this berth, and made an exchange in some way after the crime. How do you know he didn't change the tags so I would come back to this berth?" This was an inspiration; I was pleased with it. "That's what he did, he changed the tags," I reiterated.

There was a murmur of assent around. The doctor, who was standing beside me, put his hand on my arm. "If this gentleman committed this crime, and I for one feel sure he did not, then who is the fellow who got away? And why did he go?"

"We have only one man's word for that," the conductor snarled. "I've traveled some in these cars myself, and no one ever changed berths with me. I have only your word as to the exchange of berths, and you understand I am merely doing my duty. Are there any clews in the pockets?"

For the second time I emptied them of their contents, which he noted. "Is that all?" he finished. "There was nothing else?"

"Nothing."

"That's not all, sir," broke in the porter, stepping forward. "There was a small black satchel."

"That's so," I exclaimed. "I forgot the bag. I don't even know where it is."

The bag was found a couple of seats away, under somebody's raincoat—another dubious circumstance. Was I hiding it? It was brought to the berth and placed beside the conductor, who opened it at once.

It contained the usual traveling impedimenta—change of linen, collars, handkerchiefs, a bronze-green scarf, and a safety razor. But the attention of the crowd riveted itself on a flat, Russia leather wallet, around which a heavy gum band was wrapped, and which bore in gilt letters the name "Simon Harrington."

Stain Your Hair Brown

Simple Preparation of Walnut-Tint That Defies Detection.

An interesting little book has been issued on the remarkable effects of walnut-tint in staining gray, faded or bleached hair. It has the advantage over hair-dyes of being non-injurious to the hair, containing no silver, sulphur, lead or other poisons which cause hair-falling, and containing no odor, no oil, no sediment and no grease. At the same time, an opportunity is given to any one who wishes to stain the hair, to send for one of the laboratory trial packages which Mrs. Potter's Hygienic Supply Co., 436 Groton Building, Cincinnati, Ohio, will send by mail in plain, sealed wrapper.

Those desiring to procure a trial package of this walnut-tint hair-stain, as well as their book on hair, should write to the above address, and inclose twenty-five cents in stamps or coin, and if it is desired to continue the treatment, the preparation may be obtained at drug-stores generally at one dollar for a full-size package.

It is said that the stain blends so softly with the actual color of the hair as to deceive experts. It can be applied in a few moments with the comb every 30 days. It stains nothing but the hair, and does it evenly from tip to root. Any shade can be obtained from a beautiful rich brown to almost black. It does not rub off on the clothing. One bottle ordinarily lasts a year.

Send for the 25-cent trial package today.

Mrs. Potter's Walnut-Tint Hair Stain is recommended and for sale in St. Louis by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., 6th and Washington avs., Raboteau & Co., Broadway and Washington av. and Broadway and Lucas av., and Johnson Bros., Broadway and Franklin.

WARRANTED.

FAIR Mildred's color comes and goes,
In shades bewildering—
In blushes, like the damask rose,
And every tint the sunset shows,
Or that the poets sing.
Her lips are scarlet Cupid's bows—
Oh, faint encomiums!
And yet I guess the druggist knows
Her color "goes" when Mildred goes,
And "comes" when Mildred comes!

THE GIRL OF THE HOUR.

Still After Omar—but Not Caught Up.)

EACH morn a thousand new loves brings my way,
Till I forget the loves of yesterday;
For this same hour that sends me you, sweet Jane,
Shall take Myrtilla and Suzanne away!
Well, let it take them! What have you to do
With Cora, Coraline, Suzette or Sue?
Let Ruth and Rachel bluster as they will,
Today my heart shall beat alone for you!
Oh, you, who now within my thoughts find room,
How would your gentle soul be plunged in gloom,
Could you but guess that you will soon be cast
Into the past, to make a place for WHOM?
Each girl hath bode her little time and gone,
Her photograph my bureau stood upon.
Then to the mantel shelf hath passed, and then
Into the trash with other trash been thrown!
So fill the cup, the while my head still whirls,
And let me toast your dimples, smiles and curls!
Tomorrow? Why, tomorrow you may be Yourself, with yesterday's seven thousand girls!

THREE KILLED, BABY HIDES IN OVEN, ESCAPES

WYNYARD, Sask., Nov. 4.—John Mesci, 22 years old, today confessed that he killed three members of the Thorburn family at Quill Lake, according to the police. Mesci was employed at the Thorburn homestead.

A homesteader passing the Thorburn homestead Wednesday was attracted by unusual noises from the live stock. They seemed hungry and thirsty. Noting no apparent life around the house, he entered, when he heard the wailing of a child, seemingly beneath him.

Raising the cellar trap he was horrified to see the feet of Thorburn, who had been thrown headlong down. Thorburn had been shot at close range from behind, the bullet entering the left shoulder and piercing the lung.

In the next cellar Dixon found a 4-year-old boy, still partly dazed by a blow on the head.

A 2-year-old girl, hiding unharmed in the oven, was the next find. She was wailing for her mother, who, she said, was in the "hole," indicating the well.

The bodies of Mrs. Thorburn and her aged mother were found in the brush some distance from the house.

SPENT $250,000 ON PRESIDENT'S VISIT AND TRIP

President James E. Smith of the Business Men's League, just back from the deep waterways convention at New Orleans, says he believes the trip of the President's fleet down the river, with the expenses incident to the entertainment of the President, the Governors, Congressmen and other guests in St. Louis, on the voyage and at the several stopping places, aggregated a quarter of a million dollars.

Mr. Smith said the large expenditure indicated the interest in deep waterways, and expressed the opinion that much good was accomplished in arousing favorable sentiment.

President Kavanaugh of the Deep Waterways Association said the river trip was a revelation to the President and guests.

"Definite action will result this year on the Government's part," he said.

Mr. Smith announced upon his return that he will retire from the presidency of the Business Men's League at the close of his fourth term, next January.

POLLARD FEARS AN INVASION BY WIFE-BEATERS

Says Creecy's Order Makes It Likely They Will Swoop Down on City.

PROCEDURE IS CHANGED

"General Disturbance" Now the Charge, Instead of "Disturbing the Peace."

Judge William Jefferson Pollard, of the Dayton Street Police Court, arose from his chair Thursday and delivered a 15-minute philippic against Chief of Police Edmond P. Creecy for issuing an order which, according to the judge, makes it impossible for the city to prosecute wife-beaters.

General L. Swain, a negro, of 4201 Kennerly avenue, was in court on a charge of "general disturbance," which means, under Section 1538 of the city ordinances, using indecent, profane or obscene language, or being guilty of boisterous, riotous or disorderly conduct on any public street, highway, alley, park or any other public place for amusement or otherwise. The policeman in the case said Swain had struck his wife, according to her statement.

Testimony did not show that Swain had done any of the things specified and the judge had to discharge him. He asked why a different charge had not been placed.

New Order Found.

Patrolman O'Gorman went downstairs to the police station and returned with a copy of an order, which Judge Pollard read. It was Chief Creecy's order to police captains, dated Oct. 26, and was as follows:

Instruct your desk sergeants to charge husbands and wives arrested hereafter in disturbance of the peace cases with "general disturbance." Such a charge can be prosecuted under section 1538 of the city ordinances. A recent decision of the Supreme Court is that a wife cannot be compelled to testify against her husband in a disturbance of the peace case, or a husband against his wife. Several cases have been dismissed in court of late because the wrong charge was preferred.

"This means," said Judge Pollard, "the parting of the ways. A great band of wife-beaters will descend upon the city and escape punishment, as there is absolutely no possibility of convicting them when the wrong charge is put against them."

Chief Creecy smiled when he was told of Judge Pollard's remarks. He drew from his desk a memorandum written by Assistant City Attorney King, with the approval of City Attorney Anderson, requesting him to issue the order, because of the Supreme Court decision that a wife cannot be compelled to testify against her husband.

JUDGES DENY A WAITER IS NOT FIT AS JURYMAN

St. Louis Jurists Oppose Chicago Plan of Barring "Tipped" Employes.

"TIPS" PART OF WAGES

Judge Homer Declares Gratuities Are Recognized as Pay Nowadays.

St. Louis circuit judges and the St. Louis Jury Commissioner do not agree with Chicago jury commissioners that waiters do not make good jurors because they accept tips. It was brought out during an investigation of alleged irregularities in the drawing of venires in Chicago that waiters are undesirable there. Jury Commissioner William A. Amberg said, in the course of his testimony:

"The jury commissioners believe that men who live by accepting tips are not of a character to make good jurors."

Amos L. Seaman, St. Louis Jury Commissioner, was asked if waiters were excluded here. He said:

"In drawing our juries we don't eliminate any class of men on account of their business. There may be waiters on our jury list. At any rate they would not be barred for their business alone. Elimination is strictly according to the statute."

The Circuit judges do not believe the acceptance of a tip impairs the fitness of a man for jury service. They expressed themselves as follows:

Tips Part of Salary.

Circuit Judge William B. Homer—I have no recollection of a waiter ever having served on a jury, but I see no reason why he should not be as good a juryman as anyone. The tips as now paid waiters is part of their wages and should not be regarded as a reflection.

Circuit Judge William M. Kinsey—I don't know anything about the quality of waiters as a class and don't recall ever having a waiter on a jury. The fact that waiters accept tips would not make them ineligible for jury duty. No base motive ever accompanies the tender or acceptance of a tip.

Circuit Judge Daniel D. Fisher—Our juries are not selected according to a man's business, but from the standpoint of his intelligence. We want jurors from all classes, the poor man as well as the millionaire. The fact that a waiter takes a tip ought not to be considered as much as that he represents a floating population, accustomed to moving around.

"How About Preachers?"

Circuit Judge Moses N. Sale—To follow the Chicago Jury Commissioner's notion logically, no one who is paid extra for labor would be fit for jury service. There is nothing wrong in a man's taking a voluntary offer of money or other remuneration unless he is a public servant. What would you do with the preachers? They accept gratuities for weddings and funerals. To keep a waiter off a jury because he accepts tips is absurd. There have been waiters on juries in my court, but it would not be a good plan to select a jury exclusively of that class or any other class. A variety is what is wanted.

Circuit Judge James E. Withrow—It is the custom for waiters to take tips and the mere fact that they did so would not make them ineligible for jury service. For the same reason a man who handles baggage and takes tips might be excluded. We want jurors from all stations—bankers, merchants, barbers, laborers and waiters. Those are the places from which good jurors come.

JAIL GUARDED TO SAVE NEGROES FROM LYNCHING

Husband Bound, Wife Mistreated by Three Before His Eyes; One Killed.

By Associated Press.

GASSAWAY, W. Va., Nov. 4.—Every precaution is being taken today to prevent the lynching of two negroes under arrest here in connection with the attack made yesterday on Mrs. Albert Lockhold, a white woman, by three negroes, one of whom was run down last evning by an infuriated crowd and riddled with shot.

Word from the Lockhold home at Exchange, near here, is that Mrs. Lockhold will recover.

Although it has not been definitely decided whether the two negroes in custody were implicated in the assault, the residents of this part of West Virginia are greatly excited. During the night the jail was heavily guarded and today 12 deputies, armed with rifles are on duty inside the prison.

One of the prisoners protests his innocence. He is John Robinson of Elkins, W. Va. The other one refuses to talk.

The assault on Mrs. Lockhold was most brutal. After breaking into the house the three negroes tied the husband hand and foot and before his eyes ill-treated his wife.

Soon after the negroes left, Lockhold freed himself and summoned aid among the farmers. One of the men, Charles Lewis, was traced to a small store in the vicinity of the Lockhold home and shot dead as he reached into his pocket for a weapon. Several hours later the men under arrest were captured.

Are Children Worth Bringing Up?

GOODYEAR GLOVE RUBBERS
For Men, For Women, For Boys, For Girls.

GOODYEAR MFG. CO. NEW YORK

LOOK FOR THIS MARK in the shank of every pair and you'll be sure of the genuine "Goodyear Glove."

"Many a doting mother would be horrified if you should ask her if her children were worth bringing up, and yet she acts exactly as if they were not. Any winter day you will see youngsters out in the snow, bundled up in all the overcoats, mufflers and mittens they can get on, but on their feet, nothing but thin leather shoes that wet through the minute they touch the snow.

"The family doctor should dip it into the mother's head all of the time, that the health of the children lies in the feet. Keep the feet dry. Never let them get wet. No child should be allowed to go out into the snow or rain, or when the walking is wet, without rubbers. Many a fond mother who has lost a child, weepingly lays it all to the unavoidable dispensation of Providence, when the whole trouble was the child had no rubbers.—American Journal of Health.

The bridemaids were Miss Doris Rafferty of New York, Miss Hilda Talmage of Cleveland, Miss Grace Dolan of Pittsfield, Mass., and Miss Jain Blackwell. They all wore gowns similar to Mrs. Lambert's and all wore big black picture hats of velvet and plumes, and carried pink rose shower bouquets. Langdon Valentine of Pittsfield was best man. AFTER SUFFERING ONE YEAR

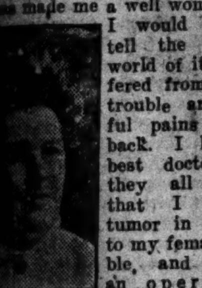
Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world of it. I suffered from female trouble and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all decided that I had a tumor in addition to my female trouble, and advised an operation.



Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I hope I can help others by telling them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. EMMA IMSE, 833 First st., Milwaukee, Wis.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

CAYOU GIVES HIS FEATHERWEIGHT ELEVEN FAST WORKOUT IN PREPARATION FOR SATURDAY'S TIGER-BATTLE FOOTBALL INJURIES WOULD BE FEWER IF OFFICIAL HAD CHARGE OF WATCHING CONDITION OF OPPOSING PLAYERS SPORT

New Official Needed in Gridiron Game to Keep Tab on Players

Harvard Trainer Says West Point Tragedy Could Have Been Prevented With Proper Watchfulness.

By CHARLES CHADWICK,

For four years guard and tackle at Yale.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.

THE recent fatal accident to a member of the West Point football team has called forth innumerable opinions and expressions of sentiment; but so far as I am aware, not a single hysterical comment. It is evident that the general public now understands the game and the motives that lie behind the actions of the players.

The public has forgotten the old notion that the game was an exhibition of intentional roughness, more or less restrained by the rules, and has come to see that 99 per cent of the roughness and 100 per cent of the danger of serious injury is absolutely unintentional and accidental. Fifteen years ago accusations of intentional roughness resulted in a break of two years in athletic relations between Harvard and Yale.

It is worthy of comment, in this connection, that several players have been ruled off recently for roughness, without exciting very much notice. Recently, in the Carlisle-Penn game, Vausekar the Indian, angered at some ruling of Referee Edwards, struck the official and was ruled off. In the Yale-Amherst game one player on each team was ruled off.

But the point is, a generation ago, similar incidents would have called forth lurid comments. Today they are looked upon as unimportant incidents and are forgotten.

Rough Playing Useless.

From the point of view of anyone who has played the game, the matter is quite simple. A blow of the fist is a ridiculous thing, when considered as an attempt to inflict injury upon a trained athlete. The whole catalogue of injuries this season, the broken jaw of Franz, the Princeton end rush and all the others are accidental injuries.

Even the uninitiated spectator can see that a group of two or three men weighing a good many hundred pounds, hurling themselves as a unit against the line, makes the roughness of pugilism seem a ridiculously light thing by contrast. The prize fighters themselves say so. Therefore, in the modern game, with its demand for close concentration of the mind of the player upon the quick moves of the opposing team, the man who takes the time to strike another is only hurting his own game.

And from the point of view of the man on the field, trained to meet heavy physical shocks, the very rare occasions when some temporary exasperation produces the reaction of a blow, are regarded more in the light of amusing, or at least negligible, happenings. It is the chance of accidental injury which is, if anything, the present drawback of the game. In my opinion it is all a matter of condition. Mass plays can't be eliminated, and even if they could expert opinion varies as to whether tackling in the open is not really more dangerous than tackling in the line.

But rules relative to taking players in bad shape out of the game can be made and enforced. It seems to be generally agreed and no less an authority than the trainer of the Harvard team is quoted as saying that Byrne showed signs of being in poor condition for some time before he was fatally injured.

The whole trouble has come about in a very natural way. Football, as a new game, has grown up under the supervision of ex-players because only graduated members of the old teams know at the start anything about the game. Now it has been found that some of the greatest players of the game have made rather mediocre coaches. But the game progressed for years without the realization dawning upon the authorities that the greatest players and the best coaches are not necessarily qualified as trainers at all.

Years ago Mike Murphy, at Yale, could turn out world-beating track teams. But when the football season came around he used to stand on the gridiron day after day powerless to interfere and watch the graduate coaches as they drove the team beyond all advisable limits, with the idea they were "welding it together." Yale used to win, too, in those days. Harvard and Princeton were "trained" on about the same lines. Of late years, however, thanks to Percy Houghton and men of similar wisdom, a change is evident. Coaches are beginning to realize an overworked man is not only more liable to the chances of injury, but also less liable to play a skilful or effective game.

HARVARD TRAINER WANTED BYRNE TAKEN FROM GAME

BOSTON, Nov. 4.

"THE fatal injuring of Cadet Byrne in the Army-Harvard football game could have been prevented and should have been prevented. I tried to stop it, but was powerless."

This statement, made in Boston yesterday, came from a man perhaps more competent than any other to give an accurate verdict about the gridiron tragedy, which cost a young life Saturday—William F. Donovan, trainer of the Harvard team.

"The man was scarcely able to keep on his feet before the last fatal fall. He should have been taken out of the game. As a matter of fact, I requested that he should be taken out, but the man to whom I spoke could do nothing.

"I believe that there should be a new official at football games—some competent person who would watch for injuries from the side lines, and who would instantly withdraw from the game any man seeming to be in bad condition. I observed two or three other West Point men who were nearly as badly off as Byrne. They were more fortunate, that's all."

PRINCETON MAN WILL REFEREE MIAMI BATTLE

Conference Officials Named to Handle St. Louis U.'s Battle Next Saturday.

The officials for the game between the St. Louis University and Miami football elevens, to be played at League Park Saturday afternoon, have been agreed upon. Bard of Princeton will referee. Burroughs of Illinois will umpire and Miller will act as field judge.

All of these men are conference officials. Burroughs and Bard have officiated in St. Louis before, while Miller is said to be a former Washington University man.

The Miami squad will arrive from Oxford, O., Friday morning, and the men will in all probability go to the Planters Hotel and work out in Forest Park on the Triple A grounds Friday afternoon.

There is keen interest being manifested in the kind of a team Miami will show. It is conceded that any team able to beat Ohio State 40 to 0 must have excellent material and coaching.

There were 30 men out for the St. Louis U. practice Wednesday night at League Park. After preliminary work Warner sent the regulars against the second team and a hot game ensued. The regulars worked the forward pass better than they have ever done and scored a number of touchdowns. Painter had his ankle slightly sprained, but none of the other men were hurt to any extent. Painter will be fit to play his best game by Saturday, and all of the other regular members of the team are in excellent condition.

CITY BASKET BALL LEAGUE WILL BE REVIVED TONIGHT

According to the announcement of President Allison of the City Basketball League, at least ten teams have expressed their intention of becoming members. He has ordered all teams wishing to gain admittance to have their representatives present at the meeting of the league officials to be held at the First Regiment Armory tonight.

The Premiere Lodge team, formerly the Central Y. M. C. A., champions for the last two years, will again be represented by the same team, while Battery A and the First Regiment will also have a team. Nothing has been heard from the Missouri A. C., but there is a circulating rumor that the Cherry Diamond will have a very strong five in the field this year.

Four new teams will make their debut in the league and they should give a good account of themselves. The Mohawk A. C., which won the Lafayette League championship last fall, has reinforced its team with several new players and will be in the big league. The Keen Kutters, consisting of several college players, the Y. M. H. A. and the Louisiana Halls will also make application for membership, besides there are several other teams.

The Lafayette League held a meeting at the Barr Branch Library and Hughie Thompson was elected president of the organization. At the next meeting President Thompson will announce the league's make-up and a schedule will be made out. All games will be played on Tuesday nights at Louisiana Hall.

The C. B. C. basket ball team will open its season Saturday with a game with the McKendree College team at Lebanon, Mo. C. B. C. has also scheduled games with James teams.

The First Regiment Basket Ball League, composed of 12 teams, one each from the different companies of the regiment, will open its season on Nov. 15 at the armory. The season will end on May 7. Each team will meet every other team in the league twice.

BILLIARD NOTES.

Mrs. A. B. Pierce won the first prize for the fourth progressive billiard party of the season at Charles Peterson's Hall, Wednesday night. Mrs. Peterson won second prize, but turned it over to Miss Lydia Holt. Mrs. E. Lindeman took third prize. Each of the games was 10 points straight-rail, and Miss Miller made the high run of the evening, 4.

The winner of the pool match between Anderson and Jackson at the Navarre, Thursday night, will qualify for the annual State championship pool tournament, which opens at the Navarre, Monday night. Anderson defeated Smissman Wednesday night, 75 to 42.

Seifert and Jackson will meet in the three-cushion billiard tournament match at Pesch's, Thursday night. Wednesday evening Meyer defeated Arnold, 25 to 15.

BAN WOULD DO AWAY WITH BASEBALL SPIKES

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The American League, at its annual meeting next month, the exact date of which has not been decided, will take up seriously the matter of abolishing spikes from the paraphernalia of the diamond.

President Johnson made that statement Wednesday in discussing the probable problems which will be considered by the League magnates this winter. He said it was hoped a suitable substitute for the spike now in use on the shoes of players would be discovered and agreed upon for the purpose of eliminating at least a portion of the accidents which have marred the sport during the last season.

New Richmond in Soccer Field.

John Williams of the Witt Rangers of Witt, Ill., wants to play any local soccer eleven. The Witt team must be a strong one, as Williams says Witt defeated Gillespie 1—0, and repeated the trick Labor Day, 8 to 0. Three weeks ago the Witt team lost to Gillespie, 2—1. The Gillespie team tied the Pilgrims of England 1—1.

WRAY'S COLUMN.

IF this wrestler Zybszko is as hard to down as his name, Frank Gotch is in for a merry time.

The reason why football is tolerated where prize fighting is discriminated against is precisely the same that hangs a man for murder, but deplores the accident when a hunter shoots his companion's head off. It's all right, apparently, to hurt a man when you don't intend to. Can anybody say there is no intent to injure about prize fighting?

An Eastern paper quotes Jim Jeffries in a comparison of the brutality of football with the pink tea effects of prize fighting. The quotation covers one-half a newspaper column.

If Jeffries is correctly quoted, judging from his customary speed and action, he must have begun his tirade against football about six months before Cadet Byrne was injured. Jeff starts a sentence on Christmas and finishes it after Lent.

The Loquacious Mr. Jeffries.

WHEN Jeff was in St. Louis some years ago, preparing for an exhibition with Bob Fitzsimmons at Haughton's West End fight foundry, he was interviewed at the Business Men's Gymnasium. A few excerpts from the interview follow (notice the almost Latin volubility of Jeff's replies):

Reporter: I notice you wrestle considerably as part of your training, Jeff. In what way do you figure it aids your boxing ability?

Jeff, thinking strenuously—"Huh?"

Reporter: Is wrestling as good for the wind as hunting in the mountains?

Jeff nods his head.

Reporter: What do you think of the man who knocked you down in Montana—Jack Munroe?

Jeff (Napoleonically): "Stiff."

Reporter: Would you take a punch to be able to give one with any fighter you know of?

Jeff: "Nix."

Reporter (scenting a clew to a story): Whose punch do you fear?

It's easy to see that half of column of "just Jeffries" would occupy several months of the interviewer's time.

Shorter Season Wanted.

CHARLES MURPHY is alone in his longer schedule glory. Even Barney Dreyfuss has forsaken him in this stand—not that he and "Chubby" ever pooled their affections. Nearly all of the magnates are out for the present or a shorter schedule as compared to one of 168 games duration. Mr. Hedges gives the best reason of any of the magnates for shortening the season—it would enable the teams of various cities to play interleague series, he says.

The abandonment of the spring and fall games here was deplored by all fans. With no chance for a league pennant, even the local championship could not be decided. The only exciting break in the monotony of tail-end performances was thus taken from the local outlook.

A shorter championship season would give ample time for at least one series between rival clubs of the two leagues and thus give a thrill to the fans of such cities as could not have a flutter over the fight for a league flag.

There's a new sort of "terrible" wrestler over here after Frank Gotch. His name sufficiently attests his Turk ancestry—it's Con O'Kelly.

The Empire City fall track meeting has been called off, "because," says Manager Matt Winn, "of the scarcity of racing horses in the East."

Another explanation offered is not the scarcity of horses, but of memory bookies who have not lost their memories.

It's literally true that Yale is expecting to "play Hobb" in the Harvard game.

Abolish the Steel Spikes!

BAN JOHNSON has taken a stand against the spiked shoe and with President Heydler of the National League will endeavor to sift the mooted problem of the best baseball cleat at the next meeting. Mr. Johnson is quoted as saying that the steel spikes ought to go and that they can be replaced without loss of speed or injury to the base-stealing end of the game.

Ban B., however unpopular, generally has the right side of every baseball argument he enters into and there now seems little doubt that the cutting down of basemen will soon be a thing of the past.

Next on the list should be the abandonment of the spitball. Agitation against this was begun last season, but came to nothing for a very simple reason—many teams possessed pitchers of high class, who could fling little else than the moist curve. Several teams would have been wrecked in their pitching departments had it been decided that the spitball must go.

The young men coming from the minors find they can attain better results with less painstaking practice by using the spitball than by the slow process of learning to throw the dry curves of the older regime.

Nevertheless the spitball is a detriment to the game. It hurts good catching and sometimes good throwing and undoubtedly cuts down the batting greatly.

Five Bids of About $75,000 Will Be Made for Big Fight

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.

FIVE bids are now in shape to be submitted on Dec. 1, for the Jeffries-Johnson fight.

Coffroth and Gleason are here with their offers to produce the fight in the suburbs of San Francisco; Miller Brothers have sent in a bid naming their ranch in Oklahoma and now comes Tom McCarey of Los Angeles, who wants the fight there, and a delegation of sporting men from Spokane, Washington declare that they will give $75,000 if the match is produced in their vicinity.

But one of the active bidders have mentioned the actual figures to the extent of presenting a forfeit, but the general talk is of a $75,000 purse.

Gleason insists that if the fight is given to his club at Alameda, Cal., he is certain there will be a $200,000 house and he is willing to give the two pugilists 75 per cent to divide between themselves.

BILLY GRUPP WINNING IN CALIFORNIA RING

Billy Grupp, the local welterweight fighter, is beginning to demonstrate to Frisco fight critics that he really knows something about the boxing game. Jack Evans, rated a fairly good man, going down and out before Grupp in less than one round at Frisco Wednesday night.

Grupp fought Billy Purtell, rated one of the most promising welters on the coast, a couple of weeks ago. Grupp knocked Purtell out. The Frisco men did not think that Grupp could repeat, as, like many others, they were deceived by his thin, lanky appearance. Grupp and Purtell were rematched. Purtell, however, took sick and Evans was put on in his place. Grupp last year won close to fifty bouts in New York.

Speaker Cannon Denies Interest in Baseball Club

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 4.

SPEAKER CANNON denied most emphatically this morning the story sent out from Wheeling, W. Va., last night, to the effect that he was negotiating for the purchase of a franchise in the Central League to bring it to Danville.

"There is absolutely nothing in the story," he said. "I had not even thought of the matter. Besides Danville has purchased a franchise in the Three I League and why should I want to bring another club here? The story is too absurd to even be given consideration."

BOWLERS STRIKE REGULAR STRIDE

Bankers Roll Up High Scores, but Lose to Marquette Because of Handicap.

The Bankers, though bowling in excellent form, lost the odd game in their St. Louis Tenpin League match with Kern's Marquettes on the Grand alleys Wednesday night. The Bankers averaged 880 1-3, but the 128 pins handicap per game that the Bankers allowed the Marquettes proved their undoing. Jules Schmitt of the Bankers averaged 219 1-3, while Emil Masson, thanks to a 257 in his second game, averaged 203 2-3.

In the other St. Louis League match the Marquettes, with a 56-pin handicap per game, from the Times team, managed to take two out of three games. The Times averaged 875, Brockman being the leader, with a 196 average.

The Loole Shots took two out of three games from the Spectors in their Trimp League match on Trimp's alleys. Seltzer of the Loole Shots, and Keith of the Spectors both averaged 197.

There was some fast cocked hat bowling on the Royal alleys Wednesday night when the teams of the Junior Association clashed. The Pontiacs, with a 51 9-25 average, took four out of five games from the Choctaws. Kicker of the Pontiacs, though dropping down to 43 in one game, managed to average 56. The Comanches took four out of five from the Mohawks. The Cherokees took the deciding game in their match with the Rialtos. Deyherle of the winners averaged 56.

CABANNE A. C. ELEVEN BEATS SOLDAN SECONDS

The Cabanne A. C. football eleven, composed of a number of boys from the Dozier school, defeated the Soldan High School second team on the grounds at Union boulevard and Washington terrace Wednesday afternoon, 12 to 6. Johns played a good game for the winners.

Hyde Park Team to Celebrate.

Billy Connett, all-around athlete and football official, has been chosen for a new line of work Thursday night when he will make a speech to start the ball rolling at the Hyde Park's complimentary reception and dance to their North St. Louis friends at Twentieth and Salisbury streets. The Hyde Parks won the Trolley and City Baseball League championships. "Heine" Kulage, Bill Abstein, Lefty Leifield, Bobby Byrne and, in fact, the entire colony of local ballplayers and managers have been invited to attend.

Murphy Visits McGraw.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Charles W. Murphy, president of the Chicago National League baseball club, is here, and, although he declares he would not trade Kling and Reulbach to the New York team for any amount, he has had a conference with President John T. Brush and Manager John McGraw, and intends to meet them again. McGraw insists that a trade is pending, and intimates that he is trying to trade George Wiltse and Mike Donlin, with an added cash consideration to Murphy for Kling and Reulbach.

Australian Tennis Team Named.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Nov. 4.—Norman E. Brookes and Walter Dunlop of Victoria; A. F. Wilding, of New Zealand, and Dr. Sharp, of New South Wales, have been selected to defend the Dwight F. Davis international tennis challenge cup against the young Californians, Maurice F. McLaughlin and Melville H. Long, who hope to take back the tennis trophy to the United States, are practicing daily and showing good form.

Cayou's Pigmies Regain Hope After Fast Tryout

Washington Eleven Best of Its Weight in the Country, Says Coach—Missouri May Have Hard Game.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

There may be a little surprise for the football rooters of Washington University when its gallant lightweights do battle with the massive Missouri eleven at the Stadium Saturday afternoon. The belief has been generally expressed about town that the Tigers will tear the Cayou defense into shreds and then march up and down the field for a big score. But from the manner in which the Pikeway players have been scrimmaging with the freshmen, it looks as though Missouri will have to call its best plays into service to win the game.

"That team can beat any team in the country of the same weight," declared the Indian leader as he stood admiringly on the side and saw the fellows doing desperate tackling and charging.

"Of course we will be greatly outweighed by the Missouri players, so I don't mean by that we will walk over them. But neither do I believe the State eleven will walk over us. I hope to see a close game and I haven't given up the chance for a victory."

Graduates Aid Scrubs.

The Freshmen were aided by three Washington graduates, Stone, Melvin Smith and Krause. Cayou gave the ball to the lower class men and their aids and put the varsity on the defense nearly all the time and the scrimmaging lasted more than 45 minutes. Cayou himself gave his attention to his ends, for it is at those positions that he expects to be weak Saturday, for the regulars, Maddox and Nelson, are laid off with injuries. Nelson will get in the game for at least one half and there's still a chance that Maddox will help for a short time. But Cayou is not counting on either one of them and is drilling Schnell and Woods for the game.

Schnell is a strong player, but needs more speed. Woods is a light man but quick as a cat, and tackles with surprising accuracy. One or two heavier men are trying also for the position, but Little Woods has the call on them all because of his gritty playing.

It will be a fast team that will face the Tigers. The backs, Nipher, Durr and Hager, with Falvey at quarter, form a quartet that is hard to excel in handling the ball, making passes, getting off quickly and picking openings. The line is light and Cayou has drilled it thoroughly all week, for he knows his only hope in scoring is for the line to hold the heavy Missouri forwards so the backs can turn a few of their tricks.

Durr Will Probably Play.

Fullback Durr will undoubtedly play the game, though his parents have protested against his playing. They didn't write their protest in the form of a command, but rather as a request. Coach Cayou and Manager [illegible] took no decided action on the matter when they called Durr before them and informed him of receiving the protest. Then they left the matter to Durr himself and decided at once that he would play the Missouri game, at least.

The enthusiasm at Washington University has grown wonderfully in the past three days. Monday afternoon there were two students who came out to watch the team practice. Wednesday there were about two hundred and every one on the campus is talking Saturday's big game. It is to be the football event of the year, at the school, and the rooters will organize and learn their songs and yells. Cayou is to be represented by a body of rooters who are coming down for the game.

A hard and long scrimmage practice is in order for Thursday afternoon during which Cayou expects to put the finishing touches on his defense. The freshmen and graduates have promised to give their assistance again and will have practiced with Missouri formations. The varsity will charge against the formations for at least an hour. Then it will try all its offensive plays. Friday evening the team will be at its best for the battle Saturday afternoon.

De Oro Defeats Daly.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—In the first game of the three-game match of the cushion billiards for the championship of the United States, Alfred De Oro of New York, the present champion, defeated John Daly of Chicago by a score of 50 to 36, in 83 innings.

St Joe After Franchise.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 3.—At a meeting of St. Joseph business men today it was decided to send a delegation to Chicago Nov. 9 to the Western League meeting to try and secure a franchise for St. Joseph next season.

COCHEMS IS NOT SURE OF A GAME

It is expected that definite arrangements will be made Thursday for the Barnes University football eleven to go to Kirksville, Mo., to play the American School of Osteopathy eleven at that place Saturday afternoon. Barnes defeated Kirksville 22 to 0 a few weeks ago but the "Bone Doctors" want a return game on their own field.

Barnes was scheduled to play the Missouri School of Mines team from Rolla, Mo., at Sportsman's Park. The game fell through when the Miners refused to come to St. Louis and Barnes refused to play at Rolla.

There will in all probability be several shakeups in the positions of the Barnes men before Saturday. The eleven practiced against Yeatman Wednesday night. Barnes scored a number of touchdowns, while Yeatman was not able to gain consistently, but the showing of the wearers of the cardinal jerseys was far from satisfactory. The main fault seems to be that they don't know their signals and plays as they should. Also the squad needs a bit more ginger in its playing. With Johnny Magner running the team from the quarter-back position it worked faster than it has at almost any time this season. This was near the end of the practice, but the men kept up work until darkness put a stop to the proceedings.

Wassem on the Mat.

Al Wassem, the local lightweight wrestler, meets Johnny Billiter, of Toledo, O., in a best-two-out-of-three falls catch-as-catch-can wrestling match at Toledo Thursday night for a wager of $100 a side and the gate receipts. Billiter is rated one of the best men in the country and if Wassem beats him it will put him in line for bigger matches.

Harriman's Son on Crew.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 4.—In the Yale fall regatta yesterday the 'Varsity crew for the first time this fall, and William Averill Harriman, son of the late E. H. Harriman, made his debut as a Yale athlete.

SPORT BRIEFS

Battling Nelson, lightweight champion, declares that in the future he will do without the services of a manager. Willus Britt, the well-known Frisco sporting man, who died last Saturday, was Nelson's manager up to the time of his death.

Schulte, the coach of the Cape Girardeau State Normal football eleven, who has been unable to coach because of a broken leg, arrived at Cape Girardeau, Mo., Wednesday and took up his duties. Hawkins, the former St. Louis U. man, who has been coaching the team, will coach the Keewatin (Wis.) M. A. athletes.

The Naval Academy football squad resumed football practice Wednesday. There is now talk of the Navy playing Pennsylvania the Saturday after Thanksgiving in the place of West Point, which has given up the game for this season.

Archbishop Ryan, in Philadelphia Wednesday declared that football is barbarous and should be abolished. He recommends that the college men play soccer, a game he used to play, in which, as he says, "it is customary to kick the ball instead of each other."

The Mound City Rowing Club is talking of building an addition to the clubhouse, at the foot of Madison street. A professional coach is also to be secured for next season to take the place of Coach Wray, who will be unable to return to St. Louis.

IRISH WRESTLER ARRIVES TO TRY GOTCH'S METTLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The invasion of America by foreign wrestlers seeking championship honors seems in its heyday at present. Con O'Kelly of Ireland and Jack Carroll of England are the latest arrivals from foreign shores having their eyes on wrestling titles. O'Kelly is a heavyweight and Carroll a lightweight. Either is willing to wrestle any man in his class.

O'Kelly is 6 feet 4 inches tall, while Carroll is shorter by almost a foot. O'Kelly tips the beam at 220 pounds, and he says he is anxious to try conclusions with Gotch, Jenkins, Connolly or either of the two terrible Turks, Yusseff Mahmout and Maxout Mart.

O'Kelly is not only taller than the average man, but he is bigger in other ways. His chest expanded measures 51½ inches. Normal it is 46½ inches.

HOW HE CURED BLOOD POISON

I didn't find out I had contracted Contagious Blood Poison until it had made considerable headway. I had heard a great deal of the value of S. S. S. as a blood medicine, in fact had a friend who had cured himself of the same disease through its use, so as soon as I discovered the nature of my trouble I began taking it. I got along splendidly from the very first and my recovery was steady. When I first began the use of S. S. S. my face was so full of sores and eruptions that I could not shave. Other parts of my body were similarly affected, but there is now not a blotch, pimple or any other sign of the disease. I was cured by S. S. S. and I know I am cured to stay cured as this was several years ago. There is nothing that equals S. S. S. for Contagious Blood Poison and I always recommend it in such cases.

WALTER WEBER.
No. 430½ Fourth St., Evansville, Ind.

The acknowledged virtue of S. S. S. as a blood remedy induced Mr. Weber to commence its use when he found he had contracted Contagious Blood Poison. The good results he obtained are just another demonstration of its value as a cure for this disease.

Contagious Blood Poison is the most powerful and destructive of all blood disorders. Its virus permeates the entire circulation and this explains why any one afflicted with this malady usually has symptoms manifested in every portion of the body. From head to foot the insidious poison breaks forth. The hair and eyebrows fall out, the mouth and throat ulcerate, skin eruptions and sores and ulcers break out on the body, the bones ache, glands in the neck swell, and frequently the nails on hands and feet are affected.

The only possible way to cure Contagious Blood Poison is to remove the cause by purifying the blood. This is just what S. S. S. does; and it is the only medicine that absolutely and thoroughly cleanses the circulation of every particle of the germs and virus of the disease. Mercury, Potash, etc., are often used by desperate sufferers in the hope that such strong treatment will kill the poison. But this cannot be done; the disease may be checked temporarily and the symptoms improved, but the old poison is slumbering in the blood, and when the treatment is left off the disease always returns.

The ability of S. S. S. to cure Contagious Blood Poison comes from its blood purifying properties. It goes into the circulation and removes every trace of the poison, makes the blood pure and healthy, and leaves no dregs of the virus to break out later. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, each of which has a direct and specific effect in purifying the blood. S. S. S. does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to upset the stomach, affect the bowels, inflame any of the delicate membranes of the body. It is a blood purifier, tonic and healthful, and valuable are its tonic effects that when S. S. S. has rid the system of the Contagious Blood Poison the entire system is left in perfect physical condition.

We want to help every Contagious Blood Poison sufferer get well, and for this purpose we have prepared a special book on Home Treatment. We will mail this book with any special advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Post-Dispatch's Complete Record of Yesterday's Markets and Finance

LOWER PRICES FOR STOCKS IN NEW YORK

Changes Are Generally Fractional; N. Y. Central and General Electric Weak.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4, 12:30 p. m.—Price movements were somewhat irregular during the forenoon hours. It was almost an even break between advances and declines.

Colorado Fuel gained ¼, Steel preferred ⅜, Amalgamated Copper, Lead and Laclede Gas 1 each, Smelting and Steel common 1¼ each. Consolidated Gas receded ⅜ and American Car and Foundry ⅜. Anaconda was at parity.

In the rails division Atchison, C. & O. and Pennsylvania ¼ each, St. Paul and Rock Island common ⅜ each, Erie and Wabash preferred ⅛ each.

Reading moved up ¼, Great Northern, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific ⅛ each, Rock Island preferred ⅜, Northern Pacific ⅜, and Missouri Pacific 1¼ points.

B. & O., B. R. T., Canadian Pacific and New York Central were unchanged.

There was a big improvement in trading over the corresponding sessions of the week, the total sales to noon aggregating 513,300 shares.

Recessions were largely in a majority at the opening of the stock market today. General Electric and N. Y. Central had the distinction of scoring the heaviest losses in the initial trading, the former falling 1¼ and the latter 1 point. Changes in all other stocks were fractional. Anaconda and Steel common lost ⅜ each, and Amalgamated Copper ⅜.

Car and Foundry gained ⅛, and Colorado Fuel ¼. Smelting, Lead and Steel preferred were at parity.

People's Gas sold ex-dividend of 1¾ per cent and was up ½ point.

In the railway list Rock Island common and Southern Pacific declined ⅛ each, B. R. T., Great Northern and Union Pacific ¼ each, Pennsylvania ⅜ and Erie and Reading ⅛ each.

B. & O. declined ⅜, and Northern Pacific ⅜, Atchison, C. & O. and Missouri Pacific advanced ⅛ each, and Rock Island preferred ¼.

St. Paul and M., K. & T. were unchanged.

Changes in the first half hour's trading were generally unimportant, and lower. Pennsylvania, Rock Island, Union Pacific, New York Central and St. Paul lost a small fraction each.

The other rail issues were about unchanged.

The industrial stocks were strong, especially Amalgamated, which was again very active and 1 point higher. Steel common, Lead and Smelting averaged gains of ¾ each.

Trading in the rails was slow, Union Pacific being the leader.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The mixture of gains and losses shown by the opening prices of stocks today made the most prominent stocks lower while the gains were found amongst minor issues. Laclede Gas rose 1 and Colorado Fuel and New York, Chicago & St. Louis ⅝. General Electric declined 1¼ and Reading, Baltimore & Ohio and Amalgamated Copper large fractions.

The market became weak when Union Pacific, New York Central and United States Steel declined sharply. The losses in the specialties were not as a rule important, and when the Copper stocks rose later, the whole list recovered. Amalgamated Copper rallied a point. American Smelting sold nearly as much above yesterday's closing. Prices failed to hold and the market ran off again. New York Central was forced down 1¾, Union Pacific 1 and Lake Erie & Western 4¼. Pittsburg Coal preferred rose 1¼, Western Maryland 1¾ and Agricultural Chemical 1.

There was more activity in the railroad section with some stress in the Southwestern group. A few inactive specialties continued to make gains. Missouri Pacific rose 1¼, Rock Island preferred 1¼ and American Can preferred 1. Baltimore & Ohio, Great Northern Ore certificates and American Hide and Leather preferred lost 1.

Heavy and confident buying of U. S. Steel, which advanced 2 points to 93, did not prevent New York Central from going down two points. The rest of the list moved listlessly or not at all. Reading second preferred lost two points. American Sugar gained 1 and Virginia Carolina Chemical 1¼.

The market closed unsettled and irregular. A rise of 2¾ in Colorado Fuel was a feature of the late market. Union Pacific and Reading rose a fraction over last night. Atlantic Coast Line gained 2¼. Colorado & Southern and Mackay companies 2, Pressed Steel Car 1¼, St. Louis Southwestern 1¼ and Louisville & Nashville and North American 1. American Express sold at a decline of 7 and Vulcan Detinning 3. Hocking Valley receipts sold at an advance of 5. There was some heavy realizing toward the last.

CANDY COMMON IS ADVANCED ON EXCHANGE

Dullness Is Again in Evidence, but Market Tone Is Good.

Dullness again characterized the trading at the forenoon session of the St. Louis Stock Exchange, Thursday. It is seldom that there are no transactions in Railways preferred, but both it and the common stock were inactive, while the 4's were unchanged at 82⅝. Granite Bimetallic was steady. Candy common was advanced to 18¼ and these figures were bid for it towards the close, but it was held at 18⅜. Quotations in the miscellaneous list indicated a firm tone.

NATIVE CATTLE—No good steers arrived today and all the forenoon sales were under $5.50. Steers sold slow and around steady. The bulk of the offerings consisted of cows, heifers, yearlings and mixed. Anything that displayed better quality than the average moved readily at prices strong to a dime higher, but the ordinary grades were only steady. Stock cattle were unchanged with supplies moderate and demand fair. Veals made a top of $7.25 averaging fully steady.

SOUTHERN CATTLE—Texas and Oklahoma were again out fo the running when it came to figuring in the receipts. The day's supply came entirely from Arkansas and Mississippi, and no good steers whatever were offered. The market ruled steady and moderately active. Prices ranged from $3.50 down. Quality was nothing to brag about. It looks as if the Oklahoma movement is practically over for the season, in so far as grassers are concerned. Meal-fed stock will soon begin to put in an appearance.

HOGS—A small supply of hogs arrived, and as there was a good demand the market proved active and prices were forced up 10@15c. All buyers were anxious for hogs and the supply was exhausted quite early in the day, and noen of the buyers were able to secure more than half of the number they really wanted. The top of the market went to $8.05 and the bulk of the good hogs went at $7.75@7.95. Pigs and lights shared in the advance and sold promptly. The market on pigs and lights is back to where it was the fore part of the week. Best lights less than 160 pounds brought $7.35@7.75, best pigs 110 pounds and under went at $7@7.35.

SHEEP—The sheep trade was active and on a 10@15c higher basis, prices being the highest for several weeks. The supply went in a hurry at the advance and buyers wanted several times the number on sale. Lambs sold as high as $7.40 and mutton sheep up to $4.40. All buyers were in the market and the fair sheep and lambs sold much better than any day recently, but it was a case of take what was in sight with the buyers. They did not want the poorer offerings, but took them because they could not get enough of the good kinds. Stockers were no more than steady as the demand for them was limited.

HORSES—Pracically all of the horses carried over from the preceding auction days were disposed of in the ring today. There was no change in the general complexion of the trade. Toppy Southerners and drafters sold readily at firm prices, while intermediate offerings were draggy.

MULES—About a third of the mules arriving this week were still awaiting an outlet in the commission department today. Qualitied mules are steady, while others are easier.

FINANCIAL ITEMS

It is admitted by the large copper producers that a combination of the leading copper interests of the country is remote. On the other hand, it is not denied that efforts are being made to create some sort of an organization, or "community of interests" arrangement whereby the copper industry in the future can be moved along more regular lines. Copper producers realize that in order to promote stability something of this sort will have to be done, and it is because of this concerted feeling that Wall street is inclined to the belief that favorable developments are pending.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—During the month of October, 27 applications to organize national banks were received. Of the applications pending, 30 were approved and six rejected. In the same month, 22 banks, with total capital of $1,505,000, were authorized to begin business, of which number 11 had capital of $205,000, and individual capital of less than $50,000, and 11 had capital of $1,200,000, and individual capital of $50,000 or over.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—A director of the American Hide and Leather Co. says: "The persistent rumors that the company is contemplating dividend action on the $13,000,000 of preferred stock are entirely premature. In the course of time, American Hide and Leather will probably go through a reorganization somewhat analogous to that by which the capitalization of the United States Leather Co. was scaled down through its conversion into the Central Leather Co. It will be time enough to take up for decision the question of meeting the 67 per cent of accrued dividends on the preferred when this reorganization comes to a head."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Increase in national bank circulation for October was $1,113,297; for 12 months, the increase was $35,096,564.

THE INDUSTRIALS.

The business that Pressed Steel Car should have enjoyed months ago but for labor troubles, which could have been avoided by using judgment, is now coming along nicely. Reports from Pittsburg speak of opening the Woods Run plant, which employs 4000 men when working at full capacity. The company has sold its interest in the Canada Car Co. for $1,700,000 cash. This should add considerably to the working capital. Dividends on the common stock, however, have been delayed for some months, at least, by the strike.

The weakness United States Rubber has shown comes largely from liquidation on the part of traders who bought in expectation of a dividend which the directors were too conservative to declare the last quarter. The company's earnings when the annual report is made known will, according to reports, indicate between 10 to 12 per cent for the common stock. If this is borne out there is good ground for expecting action on a dividend for the common at the next quarterly meeting.

ST. LOUIS MONEY MARKET.

There is a very steady tone in the market for time credits, although as a general rule the situation is somewhat easier.

The rates ruling today showed little or no change from those seen earlier in the current week, 5 to 6 per cent being the figures asked in the extreme for three and four months' accommodations. Demand loans were quite few in number.

CONTINUATION OF DECLINE IN WHEAT

Pressure, Based on Weakening Cash Markets, Still in Force and Values Break.

There was a good trade in local wheat Thursday and the market was very nervous. The heavy liquidation of the past few days has unsettled price levels and is resulting now in a badly mixed trade. Shorts showed little disposition to realize profits on the breaks that have been secured and with further pressure in force, a lower range prevailed. There were frequent nervous rallies, but prices each time sagged back and the tone, taken as a whole, was decidedly weak.

The market opened lower on a consideration of the bearish foreign situation. The prices at Liverpool developed a relatively steady tone on the bullish figures given out by Bradstreet the previous day and on the disappointing stocks there. They were fractionally lower, however, and the depression was encouraged, besides the previous decline on this side, by the very good crop advices from Argentine and lower offerings of La Plata wheat. Liverpool closed [illegible] lower, and there also were declines in the continental markets.

The initial selling on these factors was encouraged by the still bearish trend of the domestic news. Receipts in all positions of this country, as well as Canada, were very large. The cash demand was slow at further reductions in premiums. This and the very liberal amount of long wheat that recently has been let go has appreciably lessened the probability of congestion at delivery time, and has given the bears more courage. The weather continues favorable and the crop is reported to be in excellent condition.

With the generally weak cash markets and the relieving of the recent congestion, the principal factors, there was a good volume of pressure all morning. Except during occasional temporary rallies, it kept prices in a weak position at sharp declines.

Dec. wheat opened ¼@⅜c to ⅛@⅜c lower at $1.03⅛ to $1.03¼, advanced to $1.03⅜, declined to $1.02⅝ and rallied to $1.03⅛. May wheat opened ⅛c lower at $1.04, declined to $1.03⅝ and rallied to $1.04. July wheat opened unchanged at 95⅛c and declined to 95⅛c.

The business is growing nicely and the early part of 1910 will probably see a restoration of the 4 per cent dividend on the common stock. At present low prices the stock looks attractive and promising.

FISH HAWK FIGHTS HUNTER

With Broken Wing, Bird Advances to Meet Man.

DANVILLE, Pa., Nov. 4.—An osprey, better known as a fish hawk, the first ever seen in this section, was captured alive by Arthur Baylor after a fight which lasted over an hour.

Baylor noticed the bird, which is a magnificent specimen, his wings measuring six feet two inches from tip to tip, hovering over the chicken yard. He succeeded in shooting it through the right wing, and then started forward for the capture. The plucky bird, with broken wing dragging behind, advanced to meet him.

Then ensued a battle royal, the strange bird sinking its talons again and again in Baylor's arms and legs.

After a full hour's fight, and with the aid of a passer-by, Baylor succeeded in making the creature captive.

FARMER ADOPTS THE PEANUT AS A PROFITABLE SOLUTION OF MEAT AND HAY PROBLEMS

Variety Yielding 100 Bushels to Acre and the Hay of Which Hogs Devour Is Chosen.

STEPHENVILLE, Tex., Nov. 4.—Jack Johnson, who owns a fine sandy land farm west of town, has been converted to peanutism, and he believes in peanuts so firmly as a solution of the meat and hay problems that he and neighbors are going to plant them extensively next year, and buy a peanut thresher.

This year he planted eight and one-half acres of a new variety which produces nuts twice the size of the Spanish nut. This new nut is a very valuable variety, and yields as well as the Spanish nut, and also makes fine hay, yielding about 30 bales to the acre this year, each bale containing half bushel of nuts, which Mr. Johnson is selling at 75 cents per bale, and it is going like hot cakes.

In good years it is said that this new variety has been known to yield as high as 100 bushels per acre. These nuts were introduced here by Mr. Johnson, who obtained them from an old Primitive Baptist at De Leon, who gave his word that the nut was the best that he had ever seen.

Jack Johnson says this new nut just suits him. Hogs eat the peanut hay, and seem to like it as well as alfalfa. In harvesting Mr. Johnson plows the vines up with a solid sweep, lets them dry two days, then rakes and stacks them. However, he believes it best to bale them without stacking, which will save hauling.

The Exceptional Equipment

of the California Fig Syrup Co. and the scientific attainments of its chemists have rendered possible the production of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, in all of its excellence, by obtaining the pure medicinal principles of plants known to act most beneficially and combining them most skillfully, in the right proportions, with its wholesome and refreshing Syrup of California Figs.

As there is only one genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna and as the genuine is manufactured by an original method known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only, it is always necessary to buy the genuine to get its beneficial effects.

A knowledge of the above facts enables one to decline imitations or to return them if, upon viewing the package, the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. is not found printed on the front thereof.

MARCEL PREVOST SINGS PRAISE OF GOOD WINE, CONDEMNS BAD AND MINERAL WATER DRINKING

Men Who Drink to Glory of the Grape Snap Fingers at Doctors, He Says.

Special Correspondence From Paris Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Wine is sung in vehement prose by M. Marcel Prevost—not all wine, of course, but good wine. Alleged wine has done more harm to the true, the blushful Hippocrene, than anything else except medical fashion, he sings.

M. Prevost says he knows of dealers who buy 300 casks in a shed, whence they emerge 1500 through some strange and hideous multiplication, and he cites merchants who supply Paris bars with casks of stuff "guaranteed to keep fifteen hours on end," after which the "wine" decomposes, the chemical matters precipitating in that time.

But he is even more indignant with doctors than with adulterators. Has France lost her sense of humor, he asks, that she listens to quack advocates of mineral water? The "poor imbeciles" who listen to them have never, he cries, stopped to note that the districts of France which grow the finest wine are precisely those where there is least tuberculosis, and that neurasthenia, nervous breakdown, brain fag, and such like are to be found only among water-drinkers.

"This is not a joke," he urges. "Look around you. The men you know who drink wine snap their fingers at doctors. Perhaps that is why the latter recommend mineral waters."

DISSOLUTION of PARTNERSHIP SALE

THE KEY TO THE WHOLE SITUATION IS THIS:

We Must Raise $300,000.00 By Jan. 1st to Effect Settlement with Present Partners

Washington Ave., Cor. Seventh

The MODEL

Washington Ave., Cor. Seventh

CONFRONTED with the absolute, unyielding necessity of raising this large sum of money—$300,000.00—within a very short space of time, "The Model" is compelled to abruptly end its selling of fine merchandise in the regular way at regular prices, and announces this extraordinary and sensational sale to begin tomorrow morning.

OUR entire stock is to be unreservedly sacrificed. The slashing of prices is terrific. The reductions are so extreme that all St. Louis will be startled. Our sole object now is to raise this money as speedily as possible. No sacrifice that we must make is too great to attain this end. We are very emphatic in saying to you that in their genuineness and downward trend the reduced prices in this sale are without precedent or parallel. It is impossible to go into details here, but we have

Cut the Prices a Quarter, a Third, One-Half and More, on All Our Men's, Women's and Children's Ready-to-Wear Apparel

AND this astounding price-cutting is done at the very height of the season. You can imagine how this sale will shake the mercantile world of St. Louis to its very foundation. At the time when other houses MUST charge their full prices, because they have to make their profits now or never, "The Model" is forced to take its immense and unusually complete new stocks in its Men's, Women's and Children's department, and cut the prices mercilessly, not even stopping at cost of the goods, thus creating a sale alongside which even the most extravagantly announced bargain event is a nonentity.

THE character of the merchandise offered in this sale is irreproachable. It is all new this season, and was bought for regular selling. You should remember that there is a distinct difference between regular goods and the kind that is purchased for special sale purposes. We bought lavishly for our Fall and Winter business from the leading manufacturers, so that we have a stock that in quantity, desirability and variety surpasses anything this side of New York. It is the kind of merchandise that has enabled us to assume the undisputed leadership we hold in the realm of ready-to-wear apparel in this city.
